Narcotics Measures Signed At North County Meet

'No Boundaries'

'Teenage Drug Abuse Most Critical Social Problem,'

Reagan Tells Crowd In D.C.

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Governor Ronald Reagan zeroed in on drug abuse among the State's teen-agers and told a joint meeting of the North County's chambers of commerce in Daly City Tuesday what his administration is doing to curb the epidemic.

Speaking to the overflow non-partisan crowd attending the luncheon at the War Memorial Building in Daly City Reagan said the side effects of drug abuse have an impact in every area of today's society—from the street corner to the campus, from the office to the home.

"Our youngsters are growing up in a drug oriented society which knows no social boundaries," he warned. "It sweeps through the suburbs as well as the slums, and it rolls through our land to the beat of rock and roll music."

Even the music of today's teens was slapped for extolling the wonders of "Acapulco Gold" and the "beauties of riding a painted pony." (The latter an obvious reference to a current hit song.)

"Drug abuse is possibly the most critical social problem of our time. It is a problem that threatens the

"Drug abuse is possibly the most critical social problem of our time. It is a problem that threatens the health and well-being of an entire generation of American young," the governor said.

In an attempt to control drug abuse and the illegal flow of drugs between states and across nations' borders, Governor Reagan said he was mobilizing the resources of his administration into a wide-ranging program of tougher laws, research, treatment of those affected and educating the public in the dangers of drug abuse.

"Through our new State Office of Narcotics and Drug Abuse—the first such agency in the nation—we are coordinating prevention and treatment programs throughout the state," Reagan said.

He said he is creating a statewide center to train teachers about drugs and narcotics and pointed out this new office was now operating a central information program for citizens, schools and local government.

During the past four years, he noted, the State has relied upon the advice and counsel of the California Interagency Council on Drug Abuse.

This group is made up of some of the nation's top advisers on narcotics addiction, he said.

Efforts are also being stepped up to combat the drug pushers, which governor Reagan accused of "selling slavery to the young and unsuspecting."

"They are some of the most wretched criminals in society," he said.

Ten new agents have been added to the Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement "to help flush out these merchants of death," Reagan said.

Presently under development are programs to stop diversion of dangerous pills being funneled into the black market and subsequently sold to young people, he said.

"We are now requiring drug warehouses and shippers to be bonded and are also developing new record-keeping regulations so drugs can be easily traced from point of origin to the point at which they are re-tailed," the governor explained.

The State Board of Pharmacy is also being given new regulatory powers over drug manufacturers' agents and salesmen and steps are being taken against so-called "merchant-physicians," those doctors who make a living selling pills for alleged dietary purposes, the governor said.

And the State is fully cooperating with the government of Mexico and the Federal government in an all-out effort to stop the flow of drugs across the state's borders, according to Reagan.

Reagan said his administration intends to place special emphasis on research into the psychological, physiological and social effects of the use of marijuana.

Recreation Fund Suit Filed

Repayment By D.C. To Schools Asked; Tomasello Conflict Charge

A taxpayers' action filed in the San Mateo County Superior Court Tuesday by a Daly City resident seeks reimbursement of recreation funds in excess of $25,919 paid annually since 1963 by the Jefferson Elementary School District to the City of Daly City.

The action was filed on behalf of Mrs. Beverly Forrester and all other taxpayers of the Jefferson School District, an Elementary School District, and all other taxpayers of the City of Daly City, State of California, by the San Mateo law firm of Ragan & McGuire.

In addition to seeking reimbursement to the school district of "all amounts of money expended . . . for the fiscal years 1963-64 through 1970-71 . . ." the complaint asks the court "permanently enjoin and restrain Edward Tomasello from voting in the future on an contract between the Jefferson School District . . . and the City of Daly City for funds to be expended in the recreation program operated by the city of Daly City."

Tomasello is not only the Chairman of the school district's governing Board of Trustees, but an official of the City of Daly City's Recreation Department.

The legal action lists as defendants the City of Daly City, the Jefferson Elementary School District, Tomasello, and Trustees Joseph Lewkowicz, Albert Collett, William Schumacher and Dorothy Adams.

The action states that the City of Daly City and the Jefferson Elementary School District on July 1, 1962 entered into a contract providing the district shall pay to the city a sum not to exceed $25,991.20 as its "full share of the recreation program to be operated by the city."

The contract, the paper pointed out, provides the agreements shall be automatically renewed and "said contract is still in full force and effect."

It goes on to note that on or about May 26, 1970 the trustees voted to pay to the city, for the fiscal year 1970-71, the amount of $46,625.

"Said amount exceeds the amount set forth in the contract previously referred to, which contract is still binding upon the parties," the action alleges.

In a second cause of action, the plaintiff re-alleges the previous assertions, plus:

"During the fiscal years 1963 through 1970, the Board of Trustees . . . voted to pay, and did pay, to defendant City of Daly City amounts of money in excess of the amount set forth in the contract entered into between the Jefferson School District and the City of Daly City

It further stated, "The City of Daly City prepares the budget for the City of Daly City, including the budget for the Recreation Department . . . which budget sets the amount to be received from the Jefferson School District as its prospective share of the City of Daly City's cost of operating the recreation department."

The amount requested by the city for the current fiscal year and to be appropriated from the school district "included an amount to be paid to employees of the recreation department as increased wages and salaries," the paper alleges.

The lawsuit further points out that the deciding vote necessary to approve the amount of $46,625 to be paid to the city was cast by Tomasello.

'Harmony' At Jefferson El.

Needed—Hupf

By WILL THOMAS

The summer vacation ended in Daly City Friday for elementary school students, who gained a one-day respite from the annual ritual when their teachers struck to gain a master agreement.

The "memorandum of agreement" was ratified by both trustees and the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association Thursday.

Negotiator Paul Hupf, after summarizing the agreement's contents at Tuesday's Board of Trustees' meeting at the Martin Luther King Jr. Educational Building, called upon parents, teachers and administrators to start cooperating with each other.

"This district desperately needs close cooperation," the former municipal judge emphasized, adding that the district "suffers badly from friction." Bitterness also exists, he said.

He urged the cooperation so it will be possible for the board and for the teachers to fulfill their responsibilities in an attitude of "harmony," rather than in "difficulty."

He hoped that the next year's negotiation would be handled "with such ease" that a special negotiator is unnecessary.

The JCTA's president, Mrs. Joan Hemphill, hailed the agreement as a "major breakthrough" in teacher negotiations in Northern California.

Third party assistance in resolving disputes is provided for "after a reasonable period of time," with procedure spelled out.

The pact decrees that trustees all submit to the Negotiating Council a plan for evaluation of consultants and principals. Teachers also will continue to be evaluated.

Pacifica Girl Dies, 3 Hurt In Accident

Diane Wright, 17-year-old June graduate of Oceana High School in Pacifica, was killed on Monday when a car in which she was a passenger crashed into an oak tree off of Skyline Boulevard.

Three other Pacifica teenagers were injured in the 1:45 a.m. crash.

Highway Patrolman H. R. Potter and L. R. Osborn blamed the accident on excessive speed.

They said the auto, a convertible, was southbound about midway between Half Moon Bay Road and Skyline when it skidded out of control on a curve.

The car, driven by Donald Wayne Cosby, 19-year-old gas station attendant of 645 Heather Court crashed against the large tree, then spun around and came to rest partially on the roadway. None of the occupants was ejected.

Cosby told the officers that he helped his three companions out of the wreckage, Miss Wright first. She was in the rear seat on the side that took the brunt of the impact with the tree. Cosby said the girl was unconscious. (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

City Mgr. Menkin Now Salaried In San Bruno

By BOB PETERSON

San Bruno City Manager Christopher (Kit) Menkin now is getting paid to take the verbal assaults associated with his controversial appointment.

And he took them again Monday night, as did the three councilmen who appointed him — Mayor Neil Christal and Councilmen Dick Griffith and Ted Long.

Return of the full council enabled the novice city manager to receive a month-and-a-half back salary, based on his annual wage of $16,000.

The latest maneuver in the battle to oust Menkin from his post was a challenge by Councilman George Corey for a voluntary recall.

Corey, who along with Councilman Maurice Hamilton voted against giving Menkin any salary, had a three-paragraph prepared statement he's already signed and asked his fellow councilmen to sign it. No one else did.

The voluntary recall petition was to have been effective when all five councilmen signed it. A recall election would have been set for November 24, the required six months for the new councilmen to have been on the council.

"I regret the three councilmen decided to compound the appointment (by granting Menkin's salary)," said Corey. "I've prepared a method of cleaning it (the appointment and related controversy) up. It is a voluntary recall petition to determine whether any or all of us should be recalled. 'Let's clear this thing up once and for all,' said Corey.

There was a brief silence. Mayor Christal noted there was no comment coming forth. "I didn't expect any," said Corey. Then Councilman Hamilton spoke up. "I've been wrestling with my conscience," said Hamilton. "I still contend the appointment was a fraud on the people of San Bruno. I agree with Councilman Corey it was compounded by approval of the salary."

The three (other councilmen) apparently got together beforehand and agreed you would disagree with established proceedings.

"He (Menkin) is not qualified. His action in the six weeks he's been on the job has given truth to that statement. There's only one way to resolve it. You (other councilmen) get rid of Menkin or the city of San Bruno gets rid of you," said Hamilton.

"You don't select an amateur and give him on-the-job training for this position." Then, ignoring (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

A D.C. Interest In Colma Commercial Boom: Neighbors Not So Quiet Any More

The incorporated Town of Colma and its somewhat empty surrounding unincorporated lands were once quiet neighbors of Daly City.

In recent months, however, a commercial boom in both these areas has caused some Daly City officials to look with concern — and increasing interest — at the ventures.

What they see, for the most part, they don't like. And rumors of commercial buildings yet to come stick in their craw and anger them even more.

The Town of Colma was incorporated as a "cemetery" for San Francisco.

Under the State Constitution it enjoys numerous tax breaks; has no city tax rate; and is free from local assessments such as lighting and storm drain assessments.

This applies only to those areas used for burials or lands being maintained for future use as burial plots.

Yet more and more cemeteries are using their lands for commercial enterprises or leasing them out to persons desiring to turn them into other profit-making businesses.

Recently Cypress Abbey Company (owners of Cypress Lawn Cemetery; leased, on a long-term basis, some 60 acres adjacent to the Cypress Hills Golf Course for a 500-unit mobile home park. The golf course itself is being taxed as a commercial venture although it, too, will eventually become a burial ground.

Flower stands and small garden shops have sprung up around the cemeteries, along with flower growers. These are also taxed by the county.

Small auto shops and other retail businesses have popped up in these areas over the years, and Daly City officials have never complained — agreeing with the need for them in most cases.

Last year the total assessed valuation of the Town of Colma was only $2,925,000 and the over-all tax rate was $10.0371, including educational taxes, Colma lighting district and junior college bonds.

With the addition of the new Gemco store and development of a 45-acre parcel bordering the Serramonte Shopping Center the assessed valuation will jump considerably, county officials predict.

Less than two miles north, in the unincorporated area of Colma, there is talk another huge food store will locate.

Adjacent to the spanking new Daly City Civic Center both the State Department of Motor Vehicles and Pacific Telephone Company intend to construct office buildings—all on unincorporated lands.

The 500 citizens of the Town of Colma have apparently learned there is tax revenue in empty lots and are no longer (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

COLMA CONSTRUCTION SITE — A building boom has hit both the Town of Colma and the unincorporated area (county) surrounding it. Construction of such shopping centers as the Gemco store on a 45-acre site at the corner of Collins Avenue and Junipero Serra Boulevard are progressing in both areas to the chagrin of Daly City officials. Commendations To 3 Residents

It was a night spent rewarding Daly City residents for their separate efforts on behalf of others Monday at the Daly City Council meeting.

Councilman Louis J. Papan first issued a commendation to his longtime friend Andreas (Andy) Christoforidis who last week jumped into swirling ocean currents off Fort Point in San Francisco and rescued two people.

Only last June, Christoforidis had plunged into the chill waters at Anderson Reservoir near San Jose and with the aid of a friend pulled two men and a young girl to safety after their boat capsized.

Papan related both incidents in presenting the commendation which read in part:

"In these days of turmoil, violence, self-indulgence and cynicism, it is rare to find a man of Andy's caliber and moral character."

Mayor Bernard J. (Bud) Lyett thanked Christoforidis "for being a citizen of Daly City."

Serramonte Homeowners' Association Director Albert Kane was next to receive a commendation for his efforts in promoting and directing the recent Serramonte Coaster Derby held last June.

Kane was instrumental in arranging the Soap Box Derby and in helping boys who entered the race with material and construction of their cars and also with financial arrangements.

Lyett and the council commended Kane "for his diligent service to youth of the community."

The Navy Mothers Chapter 929, was likewise commended last Monday for their gift of $25 to the city to be used by the Recreation Department for the benefit of all the city's children.

Salary For Menkin

Full City Council Releases Back Pay

ing Corey's request for signatures, Hamilton made a motion to "discharge Menkin immediately."

Corey seconded the motion and noted that his fellow (three) councilmen "don't have the courage of facing a recall," nor (turning to Menkin) does he have the courage to "do what is right" (and resign).

Mayor Christal responded, saying, "Each time you give us only one out. Do one thing, or else. The innuendo, invective and snide remarks indicate to me there is some type of arrangement made."

Councilman Griffith said, "These two councilmen are like two little boys stomping their feet. They are causing the city to spend money (for legal representation), are proposing to spend more money (to seek a new city manager and possibly pay him a higher salary) and then are saying (to the other three councilmen) 'you made me do it'."

Councilman Ted Long, who originally suggested Menkin for the post, sat mute throughout the entire, often vicious, proceedings.

After the meeting, Long explained that the reason he said nothing was because he felt there was nothing new brought to light; the same things were discussed over and over.

Long did have praise for one move of fellow Councilman Hamilton. It was a motion by Hamilton, agreed to unanimously, that the council meet with the city attorney and Menkin to "decide the limits of his (Menkin's) authority."

The executive session is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today.

Ceremonies

Honor New

Stamp Store

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held Friday for the new 15,000 square foot Blue Chip Stamp Redemption store on the corner of Pierce and Sullivan Avenues in Daly City.

The store, located on a 40,000 square foot lot recently leased by the trading stamp company, is expected to process some $3 million in stamps annually which will produce an estimated $30,000 in sales taxes for the city.

Although city officials could not immediately place the Blue Chip company store in any one category of the new business license tax ordinance, it will be subject to this tax, according to assistant to the City Manager Don Fleming.

There are presently 12 Blue Chip Stamp redemption centers operating in the State that process more than 100,000 stamp books each month.

Attending the ribbon cutting ceremony was vice-mayor Frank Pacelli, councilman Tony Giamonna, Councilman McRobert Stewart, city manager David Rowe and other representatives of the city and Blue Chip Stamp Company.

Construction will start in the near future and the building is scheduled for operation around December 1, a spokesman said.

Controversy Arises From New Commerce In Colma

content to settle for $2.50 per person in burial taxes, even though this brings in some $25,000 a year, Daly City Mayor Bernard (Bud) Lycett claims.

Some cemeteries have allowed the use of their lands on a "temporary" basis for profit. Woodlawn Cemetery is being used to store tons of sand and top soil for a local developer.

With the exception of several companies that dump untreated sewage directly into Colma creek, the Town of Colma and the unincorporated area of Colma (county) look to the North County Sanitation District in Daly City for its sewage disposal.

They also look to Daly City for water, in some cases (the California Water Service in others), and also for refuse removal.

And while Mayor Lycett understands the difficulties involved in negotiating an annexation with the Town of Colma, he recently threatened to "more vigorously" pursue annexation of the unincorporated areas surrounding Daly City.

"Why not?" he asks. "They already depend on us for most of their services."

Lycett said the city also provides fire and police in emergencies, noting "It's doubtful there will ever be a time when we will require the service of Colma fire department or police in our city."

In other words, Lycett contends, both "Colmas" are now enjoying the best of two worlds—big tax breaks and healthy revenues from profit-making businesses.

The procedure for annexation of incorporated and unincorporated areas is complicated, but with its neighbors beginning to offer direct competition in the commercial field there is little doubt Daly City will soon attempt to undertake the job.

Petition Seeks A Stairway

San Francisco may have cable cars that go "half-way to the stars" but one Daly City neighborhood would be happy with a stairway that goes only a few yards.

More than 127 residents of the Southern Hills area of Daly City are petitioning the City Council to fulfill a promise made to them some time ago to build a stairway between Mira Vista Court and South Hill Boulevard.

This short expanse of steps would save residents of the area much puffing up and down hilly streets, not to mention the additional time it requires to walk from Mira Vista to the nearest bus stop at the corner of South Hill Road and Chicago Way.

Overall the walk, according to the complaints, is better than a half mile and 15 minutes long.

"If one were to begin walking from the end of Mira Vista Court, he would have to walk to Oakridge Drive, up the very long Oakridge Drive hill, and down the very long South Hill Boulevard to arrive at the bus stop," the petitioners explain.

They claim a ten-foot right-of-way has already been granted and construction of the stairway should start without further delay.

"Most of us have lived here for the past seven years," the signers explained to the city, "and for that length of time have been patiently waiting for said stairway to be constructed as promised by ... Sunstream Homes."

Sunstream Homes was the prime developer of the area.

Auxiliary Sets Meet

The San Bruno American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 409, will hold its fall luncheon at the Legion Hall in San Bruno, on September 23, at noon.

Working on the committee with Mrs. Laurance are: Claire Sweeney, Helen Madden, Freda Tonneson, Grace Ludwig, Anna Strabarr, Claire Dill, Clara Nettek, and Pat Mallory.

Games are played following the luncheon, and prizes given.

Members and friends are invited to attend, and new members are welcome.

days' personal leave a year was rejected and not included in the agreement.

All recruitment of teachers shall be done in California and teachers on district substitute lists who qualify and desire a fulltime position shall be given priority, the agreement advanced.

If a teacher's presence is required by the district after the regular school day, the teacher shall be compensated at the hourly rate, it was agreed.

A textbook and workbook selection committee of teachers and administrators shall be formed, and teachers gained a 7.0 per cent pay boost, the pact spells out.

Ben Franklin Intermediate and Thomas Edison Elementary Schools will have "pilot" parent-teacher "councils," and the first page of the agreement is the "philosophy" prepared by a Jefferson Council of P-TAs special community committee.

A plan for evaluation of consultants and principals similarly is included, the JCTA leader pointed out.

Under a new discipline section, teachers will be required to report to work 30 minutes before class starts and remain afterward ten minutes.

Provisions for parental as well as teacher involvement in curriculum improvement and a discipline policy also was included in the new policy paper, Mrs. Hemphill said.

"Parent, teacher and district involvement, as partners, is one of the things we went to the wire for," she explained.

The pact, retroactive to September 1, will expire on August 31, 1971.

Jefferson Elementary School District teachers returned to their classrooms in Daly City Thursday — A day ahead of their pupils — after settlement Wednesday of issues that prompted the week-long strike.

For the district, the end of the walkout by some 400 teachers meant the start of the 1970-71 school term only a day late for 10,200 pupils and their vacation-worn parents. Classes resumed Friday.

The board settlement gave to teachers the master agreement, formally called a "memorandum of agreement," they sought, though in compromise form.

Announcement of the settlement to a crowd of over 400 persons at the Abraham Lincoln

School multi-purpose room, came shortly after 8:45 p.m. Wednesday.

"At this point, agreement has been reached, in principle on all items," Board Chairman Edward Tomasello told the crowd, which burst into applause.

Tomasello explained that negotiations "for all intents and purposes were complete" and the weeklong walkout by agreement of teacher representatives was terminated.

Word that teachers had overwhelmingly supported the agreement came nearly an hour later.

Parents had been waiting since 8 p.m. for the school board to report on the daylong, "eleventh-hour" negotiations between the Teachers' Negotiating Council and the Board's representative, Atty. Paul Hupf.

Teachers gathered at their strike headquarters, the Westlake Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m., and similarly awaited word from the negotiators.

The week-old Daly City elementary school teachers' strike appeared near an end Wednesday — at least there was full-blown optimism — with the disclosure that negotiators on Tuesday had agreed on the concept of a master agreement.

That issue has been hailed by teacher representatives as the major point of negotiations, and the failure of the board of trustees, the teachers said, to "buy" the proposal as it originally was worded was partly the cause of the current strike.

Teachers in the city's Jefferson Elementary School District refused to report to their schools last Thursday, vowing to remain off the job until such time as the master contract — as it was termed then — was ratified by both "sides" of the dispute.

Greenwood said the trustees legally could not accept the master contract proposal.

In response to a parental question on the difference between a master contract and a memorandum of agreement, Mrs. Joan Hemphill, president of the Jefferson Classroom Teachers Association, replied: "Teachers want to know what policies will exist for one full year, and we don't care what they call it." Negotiator Paul Hupf also reported to the parents and teachers. He told of the numerous, long negotiating sessions, noting that they included some "Questions that are new."

Hupf had asked for 24 hours more in which to bring about a settlement of the issues.

Mrs. Hemphill, NEA and CTA regional leaders and Superintendent Greenwood turned out for a meeting of parents at the Abraham Lincoln Elementary School at 7 p.m. September 8. Greenwood relayed Hupf's negotiation progress message to those present — over 500 persons, two-thirds of them parents in the district.

The superintendent, however, had to leave immediately after fielding one question from the audience, and expressions of displeasure followed as he rushed out the door. He went to district offices, where trustees were meeting with Hupf.

The parents' meeting was set up by three Daly City mothers, Mrs. Jean Zucker of Vista Mar School, Mrs. Nancy Thomas of Garden Village and Mrs. Arlene Pleich of Colma Elementary.

It was to be strictly an information session.

The large crowd at 8 p.m. moved to the board chambers at the administrative building north of Abe Lincoln School, across a large playground, for the regular meeting of trustees.

Superintendent Greenwood might have triggered this massive shift by telling members of the audience that nothing relative to the strike and negotiations would be on the agenda, therefore there was no need for them to attend the board meeting.

He said Hupf told trustees earlier in the day that negotiations at this point are "extremely sensitive," and urged them not to say anything that might "throw a kink" into the talks.

The small board room at 101 Lincoln was jammed to overflowing. Parents and Teachers flowed into the hall ways of the administrative building.

It later was moved to Abraham Lincoln after a fire official informed Tomasello the room was too small to accommodate safely such a crowd.

At first the board chairman said Hupf would be heard, the agenda suspended and the meeting called off.

But, there was an insistence from the audience and Trustee Bill Schumacher that the meeting be continued, preferably at Lincoln School.

Daly City was hit by two major fires within an hour of each other Friday morning which heavily damaged two homes and briefly touched off a bomb scare.

The Army Bomb Disposal Squad stationed at the Presidio was called out when firemen investigating a blaze at 522 San Diego Avenue found a suspicious-looking metal pipe capped at both ends with a wire hanging from it.

Police removed the device from the building to a cleared area behind police headquarters and turned it over to the Army experts who dismantled it and found it contained ... window putty.

But the fires were real enough, causing an estimated $5,500 in damages to the vacant San Diego Avenue home and some $16,000 damages to a second home at 979 Wildwood Avenue.

The first alarm came in at 8:29 a.m. and sent firemen roaring to the San Diego Avenue home owned by Mrs. Louis R. Douglas of San Francisco.

Investigators determined children had touched off the blaze while playing with matches in the basement of the structure.

Before firemen could roll up their hoses another alarm at 8:53 a.m. sent them across town to Wildwood Avenue where the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Taylor was almost completely involved in flames.

Flames were crackling out the living room window—where the fire is believed to have started—and smoke mushroomed throughout the two-story house as firemen moved in.

Within minutes the flames were under control.

The Taylors were away from the home at the time the fire broke out, according to reports.

No one was hurt in either fire. Cause of the Wildwood Avenue fire is still under investigation, however battalion Chief Mel Hansen said he suspects it started in an overstuffed chair in the living room.

FIREMEN mop up living room of Clyde Taylor residence on Wildwood Avenue after blaze raged through the Daly City home while Taylors were out.

Extortion Attempt In D.C. Fails; Bomb Threat Ignored

An attempt to extort $20,000 from the Colonial Savings & Loan Company at 7070 Mission Street in Daly City failed Thursday when company officials chose to ignore two bomb threats phoned in about 1:30 p.m.

The first threat was received by an unidentified teller about 1:25 p.m. and ordered $20,000 be put in a plain envelope and deposited on the stairway of the first home on West Moltke Street — less than a block away.

The caller, a woman, informed the startled teller a bomb had been planted inside the building and would blow up the structure unless the company complied with the request.

Police were called, but before they arrived a second call — this time from a man — warned the bomb would detonate in less than five minutes and employees should be evacuated, leaving the cash behind in drawers.

Officials decided not to evacuate after a hurried search of the building by a team of police failed to turn up a device.

Detective Captain Richard Sims said the area was watched by police and an envelope was left on the stairway of the West Moltke Street home as directed. However, no one showed up to claim it.

Fired Jefferson Teacher In Court

Selwyn Jones, who was fired as a Jefferson Union High School District teacher in Daly City last fall following his arrest in Hawaii on a charge of possession of marijuana, went to court Thursday in an effort to get back his job as an art instructor at Westmoor High School.

Jones, 47, a teacher in the district for 12 years, testified before Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis that the marijuana which was found in his room by Hawaiian authorities was not his and that he had pleaded nolo contendere to a charge of possession of marijuana on the advice of an attorney. He was placed on two years' probation and fined $200.

Trustees of the school district upheld the firing of Jones after administrators found out about the arrest.

Manager Of Cow Palace To New Post

George Strathearn, manager of Daly City's famed Cow Palace, disclosed Thursday he will leave that post February 1 to become manager of the California Beef Council.

Strathearn has headed Cow Palace operations for nearly three years.

The former State Livestock Man of the Year from Madera County will continue to live in Foster City, inasmuch as the Beef Council's headquarters is located at Redwood City.

Strathearn, at 42, will succeed Walt Rodman, who has managed the Council since its inception some 13 years ago and who is shifting to an advisory position, Strathearn explained.

The Council promotes the state's $800-million beef industry. All beef producers in the state contribute a per-head assessment to maintain the Council, said Strathearn.

The shift to the advertising and marketing field "is a good move for me," Strathearn declared, since it will put him closer to the livestock industry he has been active in for a number of years.

Fireman Hurt At Ranch

A Pacifica fireman suffered an injured knee when he fell off a pile of bales of hay Thursday afternoon as firemen from the State Division of Forestry and the Pacific Fire Department worked for almost two hours to extinguish a fire in 2000 hay bales in a barn on the Shamrock Ranch in San Pedro Valley on the Coastside.

Although 500 bales valued at $1750 were destroyed, firemen saved 1500 bales. Injured was Fireman David Tenteluts.

Pacifica firemen sent two trucks to the ranch, outside city limits, when it was first reported a large barn was on fire. The barn in which the hay was stored was not damaged, firemen reported.

Long: Jet Noise Control Possible

San Bruno Councilman Ted Long said last week he is convinced noise pollution for jets taking off and landing at International Airport can be controlled.

When? "Just as soon as the airline companies decide to take this matter seriously and start spending some money to control it," the outspoken youngest member of the San Bruno City Council predicted.

Long, a member of the Airport Land Use Commission, said the biggest problem facing it was the inability of the general public to adapt itself to airport noise pollution.

And he suggested the government forget about spending an estimated $1 billion on development of the SST transport and use the funds for curbing noise from jet engines at airports around the country.

Asked if the answer might be to close the airport and move it into the hinterlands away from the city as some antagonists have suggested, Long said, "There is no reason we (the airport) can not exist together."

A stern critic of the airport's Noise Abatement Commission, Long has maintained for some time that immediate measures can be taken to stop the noise, including changing of runway patterns, re-routing of landing and take-off directions, modification of engines and rescheduling of arrivals and departures.

Although Long has been highly critical of the airport's operation concerning abatement of noise, he recently issued a statement supporting Aviation Appreciation Week — a statement that prompted some persons to get the opinion he was weakening in his stand.

"Not so," Long declares. "I made the statement because it was good for San Bruno merchants, it bolstered sales in a slipping economy."

He did not feel he had "honored" the airport in any way by endorsing Aviation Week in the "Airport City," the councilman said.

Odd Accident For Officer

Officer Jim McHenry escaped with minor abrasions and some embarrassment when the three-wheeled motorbike he was riding threatened to tip over and he jumped off Sept. 8.

The rather unusual accident occurred at the corner of Washington and Junipero Serra Boulevards about 10:30 p.m. while Officer McHenry was patrolling the police station area.

McHenry reported he was in the process of negotiating a corner when the three-wheeler started to tilt and he jumped free, landing in the middle of the road.

Education At Poverty Level Starts

A community education program was launched September 14 under the guidance of Skyline College, according to Cathy Smallwood of Daly City, training coordinator for the San Mateo County Economic Opportunity Commission.

"The primary purpose of the program," said Mrs. Smallwood, "is to hold classes for poverty level people. Economic Opportunity Commission personnel and other community people, in familiar surroundings."

Courses in sociology, conversational Spanish and English as a second language will be taught in the community, rather than on the San Bruno junior college's campus.

"Such an arrangement is more conducive to learning," Mrs. Smallwood declared, adding "It also alleviates problems of transportation which previously inhibited full participation by the community."

She said the courses are structured to "meet the needs of the students," and that it is "hoped that this would result in a more meaningful course without sacrificing academic standards."

Broadmoor Churchfolk To Conclave

The congregation of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church of Daly City will be represented by 150 of its people including children at a conference this week-end. This is held Friday evening through Sunday at the Mt. Hermon Christian Conference Grounds located adjacent to Felton near Santa Cruz.

This will be the fourth annual Church Family Conference to be held at this location, this year in conjunction with the First Presbyterian Churches of Richmond, Rodeo and Concord totaling 550 persons.

All these people will sit down together for meals and meetings at the beautiful glassed in dining room and auditorium surrounded by the redwoods, oaks and madrones of the grounds. There are special activities and training programs for the children and youth.

The conference speaker is the Rev. Dr. Robert Munger who will use the theme, "The Priorities of Life." He is the former pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley and the University Presbyterian Church of Seattle. He is now the Professor of Evangelism for the Fuller Theological Seminary at Pasadena from which he will bring several students to assist him at the Mt. Herman Conference.

Kenneth Gillespie of the Daly City church will be the conference dean.

The local planning committee is chaired by Pete Pappas, with Katy Dang the registrar; Tom House, treasurer; Shirley Pappas, secretary; Ken Gillespie, publicity; Pauline Scaduto, planning; and Cathie Leech and Steve Scaduto, youth activities.

The Rev. Herbert Tweedie, local pastor, indicates that the regular church worship and Sunday School will be held at 10 a.m. The guest preacher will be Rev. James McClusky of the Grace Presbyterian Church of Daly City.

Motorcycle Hits Deer

Two San Francisco residents escaped with minor injuries Sunday when their motorcycle struck and killed a deer on Skyline Boulevard near Huddart Park.

Alfred M. Berg, 26-year-old bank clerk, told Highway Patrolman E. A. Campbell he was operating his motorcycle southbound at about 45 miles an hour, with Mark S. Willis, 17, riding pillion, when the deer jumped in front of the vehicle.

Campbell said the animal was "thrown" atop the motorcycle and carried there for a distance along with the two riders. Then they were swept off by the weight of the deer.

Berg and Willis were taken to County General Hospital for treatment of painful abrasions and other injuries caused by being thrown to the pavement.

Students On P-TA Board

For the first time in its history Crestmoor High School's P-TA will have students sitting on its board of directors. At a luncheon welcoming the teachers, which was held at the school on September 10, the unit's President Mrs. Earl Oldham explained that the addition of the students ties in with the theme for the year, "Bridge to Understanding." A replica of a bridge with this motto on it decorated the head table.

The four class presidents will participate with the parents on the board and a teachers' representative will also be included. The following students will represent their respective classes: Jeff Kollman, sophomore; Kathy Ruggeri, junior; and Geoff Dottery, senior. The freshman representative will be announced following elections yet to be held by the incoming class.

Mrs. Oldham noted that the board has increased from 14 last year to 33 this year with many chairmanships being covered by more than one person.

BROADMOOR Property Owners Association has selected the George Vhalos residence at 608 Midway, in unincorporated Colma, as its "garden of the month." (Barton Photo.)

'Continuing Vigilance' At Westside Baptist Church

"A Continuing Vigilance" is the sermon topic chosen by Pastor David Donnelly for the Sunday morning message, 10:55 a.m. September 20th, at Westside Baptist Church, 390 Inverness Drive, Pacifica.

This is another in the series of messages from the First Epistle of John.

Special music will be provided for this hour. During the adult worship service, a children's church service will be conducted in the Primary Department. Also at all the services on Sunday, a Nursery is provided for babies and toddlers.

"An Honest Confession" is the topic for the 7 p.m. Family Fellowship Gospel Hour message. This evening service is a less formal type of service, and is characterized by a time of live singing of gospel hymns and testimonies by those in attendance, and special music.

Also at this evening service the hymn of the week will be sung, and the story behind its writing given.

September 19, beginning at 9 a.m., and continuing throughout the day, Westside Women will hostess Sunday School teachers and officers from the Lakeside Baptist Church of Oakland, who are having a Retreat at the church.

Pastor Donnelly will conduct a new members class each Sunday evening at 6 p.m. This class is designed for those interested in knowing what the local church teaches; what requirements are for membership; and something about the Baptist General Conference.

September 16 at 7:30 p.m., Prayer and Bible Study Hour will meet at the church. Pastor Donnelly is leading in a verse by verse study of the Book of Romans. The public is invited to this service.

Westside Baptist Church is affiliated with the Baptist General Conference.

Fall Program Signup Slated By South S.F.

Fall program registration for all South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department sponsored fee programs will be held on two days at the administrative offices, Magnolia Recreation Center, Grand and Magnolia Avenues.

September 23 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. will be first day registration for residents only. September 24 both residents and non-residents can register between noon and 4 p.m., and in the evening from 5 to 7 p.m.

Beginning and Intermediate Guitar for boys and girls is offered along with Judo for Beginners and Intermediates, both boys and girls. Classes in Judo will be taught by Ben Palacio.

Social Dance instruction, under the direction of Mrs. Irene Weed Smith, is offered to adults as well as a new program of Yoga instruction to be conducted by Mrs. Gloria (Jinx) O'Keefe.

Golf instruction will be offered adults in one four week session, starting late in September. Al Twing will be giving the evening instruction at the El Camino Golf Club.

Further information on program fees and requirements may be obtained by contacting the Recreation and Park Department, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Marketing Concept Talk Slated For Realty Unit

Members and guests of the Pacifica-Coastside Board of Realtors will meet for lunch at Nick's Restaurant in Rockaway Beach Wednesday.

Guest speaker will be David R. Summers of Riverside, representing the Southern California Financial Corporation of Beverly Hills.

Summers, a member of the California Real Estate Association, Land and Subdivision Committee will talk on a new marketing concept in raw land and large developments.

The method reportedly provides a way for Realtors to offer an established sales and marketing organization to large land developers or subdividers, making it unnecessary to train and maintain a sales force of their own.

Newlyweds Will Reside In South SF

All Souls Community Church in South San Francisco was the recent setting for the marriage of Judy Ann Armanino, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Armanino of that city, and John Ray Kellebrew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fagan Kellebrew of Napa.

Rev. James Purcell conducted the service for the couple who honeymooned at Lake Tahoe before making a home in South San Francisco.

Judy wore an ivory organza Empire gown styled with a bodice of Alencon lace which was detailed with tiny seed pearls. A ruffled neckline, long lantern sleeves and a chapel-length train completed her costume. She also wore a camelot headpiece.

Pink chiffon Empire gowns with short accordion pleated sleeves were worn by all the attendants. Jane Armanino was her twin sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Jane Kellebrew, sister of the bride, Arleen Navarret, Elaine Fontana, Nancy Rardon and Debbie Pecci.

Tom Uboldi was best man and ushers included Don Kellebrew, another brother of the bride, and Leo Kozlowski, Art Smith, Art Elton and Carl Ingram.

Guests at the reception which followed in the South San Francisco Elks Lodge included the bride's grandparents, Mrs. John Passerini and Mrs. Lawrence Armanino, both of South San Francisco, and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Clifton Kellebrew of Napa.

The new matron is the sister of Dave and Tom Armanino. She is a graduate of South San Francisco High School and her husband studied at schools in Napa. Joe Kellebrew is his brother.

At home in San Bruno after their Lake Tahoe honeymoon are Mr. and Mrs. Lauryn Russell Morris who were married at the First Baptist Church of San Francisco. The former Iris Jean Wells, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wells of San Jose and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Morris of South San Francisco are the bride's parents.

Flower Show Set

"The Age of Aquarius" is the theme San Bruno Garden Club members have chosen for their fourteenth annual standard flower show Thursday and Friday.

Co-sponsoring the affair is the Dollar Savings and Loan whose building at San Mateo and Jenevein Avenues will be the setting for the show.

Judging will take place opening day from 10 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. and ribbons and trophies, courtesy of the savings association, will be awarded at "Preview Night" that evening. In addition to standard floral arrangements, there also will be potted plant and miniature displays. An "anti-litter" display will be fashioned for the event by junior garden club members under the direction of Mrs. Alfred Marty.

Special awards will be given those who interpret the themes, "Virgo of Today" and "Doing Your Own Thing."

Hostesses for the two-day show will be affiliates of the group which is a member of Bay Ocean District, California Garden Clubs, Inc.

Skyline's Home Ec Variety

Three different style shows study and analysis of foods and diets, home decorating, careers in home economics, and child growth and development are a few of the many programs which were part of Skyline College's Home Economics Department during the first year of its operation.

However, this is just the beginning. Plans for the forthcoming semester include courses in child-nursery school area in which speakers from the community will discuss and examine various situations in the relationship between the child and the family.

A textile program in which new materials will be tested as part of a consumer education course is slated for this coming fall term. The spring 1971 will have a new course, Dietary Planning and Food Economics, which will include a demonstration kitchen, actual planning different diets and menus for various situations, based on medical and budget needs.

Mrs. Patricia Erickson, head of the Home Economics Department, said, "Skyline College also works closely with the San Mateo County agriculture office in Half Moon Bay and with Mrs. Chloe Beiler, home economist for the county. We receive all the up-to-date information on family incomes and spending. Also they provide us with other information for the students."

The past two semesters found the home economics department involved in studying buying analysis.

KC's and Out New Book Covers

Grand Knight Glenn Allen announced today that Deputy Grand Knight Tom Curr and Junior Past Grand Knight Jim Hang recently distributed the new Knights of Columbus book covers to the Catholic grammar schools in the area.

The book covers were specially designed for the Knights of Columbus and come in two themes. The boys' cover depicts a meeting in space between two great explorers, Christopher Columbus greeting one of our astronauts in front of a backdrop of stars. The girls' cover has a painting of the Blessed Virgin Mary on the front.

On each cover there is an inspirational prayer that will give the students a lesson to think about each time they look at it.

The book covers were donated by Marian Council to the following principals and their schools: Sister Patricia Clare, Good Shepherd; Sister Veronica, Our Lady of Mercy; Sister Joyce Cox, Saint Thomas More; Sister Carol, Our Lady of Perpetual Help, and Sister Helen, Holy Angels.

St. Veronica Fashion Show, Lunch Theme

"Serendipity '70" is the theme chosen for the annual fashion show and luncheon being planned by the St. Veronica's Women's Club October 10 at the Airport Marina Hotel (formerly the LeBaron Hotel), Burlingame.

Fashions to be presented by the "Butterfly Boutique" in the Airport Marina Hotel. Chairman of the event is Mrs. John Harness of San Bruno and members of her committee assisting her are Mrs. Peter Polidori, co-chairman; Mrs. Wayne Milani and Mrs. Thomas Carrigan, door prizes; Mrs. George Hadfield, hostesses; Mrs. Raymond Donohue, models; Mrs. John Immel, program and posters; Mrs. Orel Jackson and Mrs. Richard Gomes, reservations; Mrs. Alphonse Seubert, decorations; Mrs. John Vennemeyer and Mrs. David Cereghino, special awards and Mrs. Russell Teatreault, publicity.

A Nervous Hectic Pace

ALL THE YOUNGSTERS are back in classes and it is time for the mothers to get back into the school year routine and that is something of a mixed blessing — very enjoyable but somewhat taxing to the nervous system when the pace gets hectic.

There was only happy and relaxed chatter at Thursday morning's coffee hour sponsored by the Holy Angels Women's to welcome the mothers of children newly enrolled in the parish school. Mrs. Gerald Delfino, guild president, and her board members were on hand to greet old acquaintances, welcome newcomers and extend an invitation to the guild's first regular meeting which was held that evening.

MEMBERS OF LAKESIDE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH will celebrate the reunion of the congregation following summer vacations with a picnic at Junipero Serra Park Sunday beginning at 10:30 a.m.

The potluck affair will begin with an outdoor worship service on the green at the conksin cap area of the park at 11 a.m.

Members who wish to go but have no transportation are asked to call the church, 564-8833, many members are expected to offer to take members without cars but if the demand outstrips the supply of cars with extra space, arrangements will be made to charter a bus. Call early, to request or offer transportation.

SOME SURPRISINGLY lovely luxury items, as well as the usual articles, will be sold this Saturday at the Riordan High School Rummage Sale, according to Mrs. Thomas Bocci, Jr., publicity chairman for the Mothers' Club.

Mrs. Joseph Perrino, Mrs. William Trujillo and Mrs. John Domecus, the sale's co-chairmen, have obtained a wide selection of merchandise for the sale which will open at 10 a.m. in the high school gymnasium, 175 Phelan Avenue, just across the street from City College, of San Francisco.

Mrs. Bocci urges everyone to shop early for the better items are sure to be gone long before the 4 p.m. closing hours.

The new members of the guild, mothers whose sons have enrolled this semester, will have an opportunity to meet the officers and the members of the faculty this evening when the first meeting will be called to order at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Milton Blank will be presiding over her first meeting as president, and she will introduce her executive board. Serving with her are Mrs. Ray Rinaldi, first vice president; Mrs. John Ferguson, second vice president; Mrs. Leo Thiel, recording secretary: Mrs. Dennis O'Sullivan, financial secretary: Mrs. Stanley Kettell, treasurer: and Mrs. Richard Cottrell, auditor and Mrs. Gil Restani, parliamentarian.

Members of the executive board who will be on hand to host the social hour are Mrs. Thomas Hayes, Mrs. William Trujillo, Mrs. William Feeley, Mrs. Leo Fratesse and Mrs. John Domecus.

MRS. MARGARET HOLLAND of the Serramonte Nursery School reminds mothers that the non-profit, non-sectarian school still has room for a few pre-school children in the fall program.

The school, which meets in the United Methodist Church of Daly City at 1474 Southgate Avenue, is a non-discriminatory nursery school designed to meet the needs of children between the ages of two years and nine months and five years and nine months. Children may be enrolled for classes meeting two or three times per week.

For more information about the school contact Mrs. Marilyn Vall, the director, 587-7131 or Mrs. Gloriette Abbott, chairman of the parents' committee, 576-4972.

MRS. RICHARD HOLL and her co-chairman Mrs. Cornelius Maloney, are already accepting reservations for the champagne luncheon and fashion show, November Noel.

The benefit affair, being sponsored by the Mercy High School Guild, will be held at the school on Saturday, November 14.

For more information, or to make reservations, call Mrs. Holl, 586-7779 or Mrs. Maloney, 586-3448.

Former Localite Marries

Miss Dimminger, Kenneth Manders

Of local interest was the recent wedding at First Covenant Church in San Francisco of Joyce Ellen Whittaker, formerly of Daly City, and Dale Russell Kilgore of Martinez.

Rev. Donald Sheley performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Whittaker of San Francisco and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kilgore. Martha Draper McKenna and Robert Hendrick Blum were married recently in a Baha'i ceremony in the garden of the San Mateo home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Michael McKenna. Robert is the son of Mrs. Mary Evelyn Blum of San Francisco and the late Morgan Blum. Martha attended San Mateo High School and the University of California at Berkeley and has been teaching in San Francisco. Robert attended the University of Missouri and San Francisco State College. He is a newspaper reporter for the Cheyenne State Tribune. Martha is the sister of Andrew Michael, Peter, and Brian McKenna. Robert is the brother of Pamela Blum.

Joyce, who was given in marriage by her father, is the sister of Nancy Curtis and Margie Whittaker, who served as bridesmaids. The bride was also attended by Susan Gallagher as maid of honor and Kathy Waldron, Linda Repetto, Judy Kurkjian and the benedict's sister, Victoria Kilgore, as secondary attendants. Heidi Bernhart was flower girl and Ormton Reid Curtis carried rings. Thomas Galovich performed best man duties and Kent Kilgore, the bridegroom's brother, shared usher duties with William Davis, William O'Brien, Russell Rowlee, Gary Pickrell and Theodore Rowlee.

The bride belongs to the Nurses Association and the Calvary Cross Church and her husband is a member of the Evangelical Free Church. Bruce Kilgore is the bridegroom's brother.

After honeymooning in Hawaii, the couple will live in Concord.

Exchange Vows

Laurel Ann Dimminger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Dimminger of South San Francisco, was married recently at All Souls Catholic Church to Kenneth Vincent Manders. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Agnes Thomas and Vincent Manders, both of San Francisco.

The Rev. Louis J. Facchino officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Airport Marina Hotel in Burlingame. The couple was transported from the church to the hotel in "My Mother The Car."

Laurel was married in an ivory peau de soie dress with a high rise bodice with an Alencon lace bib, bishop sleeves, and stand-up collar. Her full, gathered skirt cascaded into a train. A bonnet of Alencon lace caught her veil.

Madeline Rue of South San Francisco was best man, and bridesmaids were Patricia Matthews and Leilani Lang. They wore multi-colored print dresses with full sleeves, Peter Pan collars, and velvet ribbon belts.

Richard Herbert of San Francisco was best man, and ushering duties were shared by two cousins, Daniel Panella of Millbrae and Paul Smiley of Petaluma.

On Honeymoon

Honeymooning in Europe are the former Terry Ann Solomon of Millbrae and Barry Myron Schiller of San Francisco who exchanged vows at Peninsula Temple Shalom in Burlingame.

Rabbi Gerald Raikins officiated at the recent ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Burlingame Woman's Club.

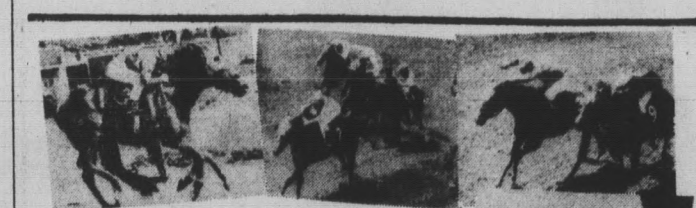

Linda Solomon, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor. Richard Skolnick of Los Angeles was best man, and guests were seated by Robert Solomon, brother of the bride, and Bill Williams.

Terry is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Solomon of Millbrae. She was graduated from Capuchino High School and the University of California at Los Angeles, where she belonged to Psi Sigma Sigma Sorority.

Barry is the son of Mrs. Jerome Schiller of San Francisco and the late Mr. Schiller. He is an alumnus of the University of California at Berkeley and received his master's degree from Ohio State University. He is presently working on his doctorate at the University of Southern California.

Police Ticket (For Dance) Sales 'Great'

"People have been great!" Jim Sunderland, member of the Daly City Police Department and currently Vice President of the Peninsula Peace Officers' Association made that statement today in reporting on the response to the ticket sales for the forty-first annual benefit ball.

"It is certainly heartening to realize how many people are aware of our fund-raising effort," he said.

The ball, now a Peninsula tradition, was originally started to help the families of officers injured or killed in the line of duty. Forty-one years ago that was a rare occurrence. Today it is altogether too tragically frequent," added Police Chief Leroy Hubbard of Atherton. He has been treasurer of the association for many years. "So more than ever before we find it necessary to draw down the treasury to help the families in need in time of their greatest loss."

He urged local residents to send in their $1 tickets and to come to the dance. It will be held September 26 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the San Mateo county Fairgrounds at Twenty-fifth avenue and Delaware street in San Mateo.

YWCA Sets Classes For Fall Term

Classes are now set up and registration open for the fall semester of classes sponsored by the San Mateo County YWCA.

The new semester began today.

The "Y" has announced the return of many of its favorite programs plus a few new ones designed to interest everyone, according to director Miss Justine Williams.

Drawing and Painting, "Y" Trimmings, Upholstering, Sewing, Polynesian Dance as well as children's dance and ballet will again be offered for those who have enjoyed them in the past and those who would like to investigate them. New courses in Creative Writing, Conversational French, Knitting and Crocheting and a course in Creative Adventures for pre-schoolers will be offered this semester and promise to be exciting for the participants.

Patrias Queen

Miss Esperanza Flores was crowned queen of the Daly City Fiestas Patrias during ceremonies attended by more than 1,000 persons in San Francisco Saturday.

Scene of the gala ball was the Spanish-American Central Centro Social de Obreros hall on 19th street.

Among the dignitaries attending the function was Samuel Robela Gonzalez, representative of the Mexican Counsel; and Daly City councilman Tony Giannone.

Attending the new queen were runners-up in the citywide contest, Miss Maritza Barba and Miss Marcia Villarreal.

Diane Nevolo Wed To James Fassler

A reception at the Peninsula Golf and Country Club on Saturday followed the wedding of Diane Marie Nevolo and James John Fassler.

The couple was married at 4 p.m. at the Calvary Cross Church in Daly City in a ceremony conducted by the Rev. Donald Sheiley.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Doris Nevolo of San Mateo and of Vincent Nevolo, who gave her in marriage. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fassler.

For her wedding, Diane wore an English net gown which featured an Empire bodice which was appliqued with imported Venise lace and outlined by seed pearls. The high neckline was threaded with pearls as were the bishop sleeves.

Diane's A-line skirt was accented with tiny Venise flowers and ended in a lace hemline. A detachable chapel veil and a bouffant illusion veil caught by Venise lace edged with pearls completed the bridal silhouette.

The bride carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, roses, stephanotis, and white butterfly orchids.

Linda Nielsen of Burlingame was Diane's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were June Nelson of Danville, Milly Briggs of Burlingame, and Cathy Clifford of Tiburon, sister of the bridegroom. They wore floor length pink chiffon dresses with Empire bodices with high necklines outlined with deeper pink lace and gently gathered skirts.

Their flowers were soft trailing bouquets of peach Florida roses with Zorina miniature carnations trimmed with shocking pink velvet streamers.

Laurie Carrigan, the flower girl, was dressed in a white miniature of the bridesmaids gowns and carried a tiny white basket with a shocking pink velvet ribbon handle filled with matching flowers.

Gary James Nevolo, Diane's brother, was best man, and guests were seated by Michael Pedreira, Joseph Torrano, and Jack Clifford.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Chiappari, grandparents of the bride, and Mary Christakes, grandmother of the bridegroom.

At the reception, Mrs. Nevolo greeted guests in a long blue sari. Mrs. Fassler wore a long, shocking pink dress. Both mothers pinned orchids to their headbands.

The bride threw her bouquet from the overhead balcony which was decorated with similar before she changed to her white knit dress and blue plaid coat for her wedding trip to Las Vegas. The couple will live in Millbrae.

Bazaar Plans Meeting Slated

Plans for the annual Christmas Bazaar by the Episcopal Church Women of St. Martin's Church will be discussed at a tea on September 26. The tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Edward S. Berry, 56 Parkwood Drive, Daly City, from 2 to 5 p.m.

The bazaar which features many holiday items suitable for gifts will be December 6 at the church, 777 Southgate Avenue.

THE MARQUEE

'Hair' Is Shaggy And Faggy

It's hardly news that "Hair" revolutionized the musical scene. Imitators come and go but the American Tribal Love Rock musical still continues at the Orpheum Theatre (despite construction of the BART system at its doorstep) along with 15 other companies around the world.

But it warranted another look this week on the occasion of its first anniversary in San Francisco because of considerable cast replacements and the addition of two new songs, "Hello There" which was when they moved from the Geary and "Oh, Great God of Power" added since March.

I LIKE THE SHOW even better now but found the local cast much weaker than any of the three previous times I saw it. It was such an iconoclastic novelty when it first opened, the music and concept had to grow to my total acceptance. By the time it moved to its present location, it was a part of the mainstream of contemporary life and I'd seen numerous imitators and assimilated the rock music into my life so completely, it held up as solid entertainment.

It was a disappointment not to see Maria-Elena Cordero as Sheila, catching the show on her night off. Her replacement, Nancy Blossom, doesn't have the strength or voice or character to play off against the masculine strength of Claude and Berger.

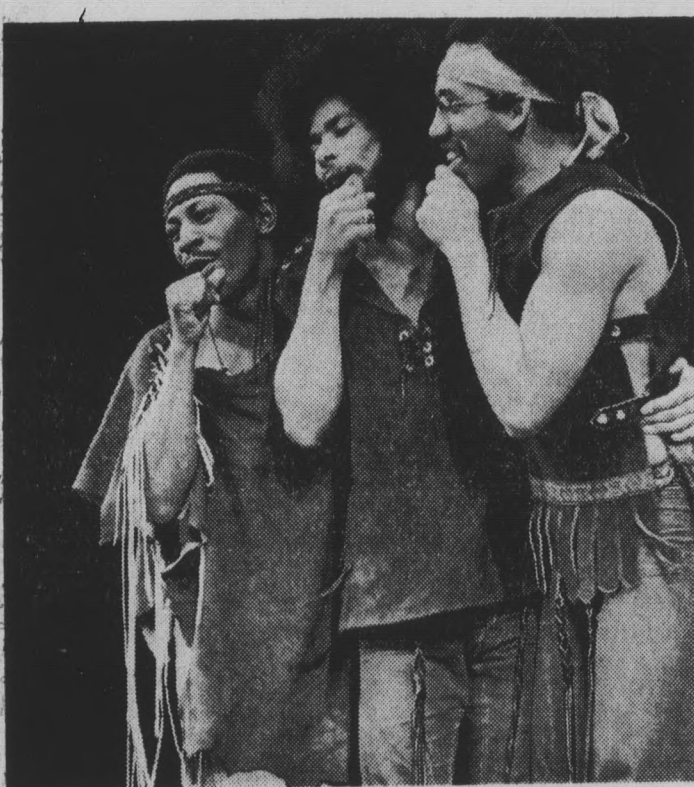

The production has taken on a faggy look. All that hugging, kissing and horsing around between the guys was a campy-funky kind of put-on in the original, in keeping with the tribal love idea and boyish playfulness of the clan. Now it has taken on an importance that doesn't belong in the show. Because the cast is weak and there were several absences that night, an imbalance occurs that is a subtle shift of emphasis putting the girls and heterosexual relationships into the background.

IT SOUNDS SO SQUARE that I would never say it facetiously but it's difficult to tell the boys from the girls in some cases. I approve heartily of long hair but below the shoulders on a boy brings natural confusion to the viewing audience.

"Hair" is such a hurly-burly show, there is so much excitement generated and activity onstage that it has to be kept tautly directed. When it gets too loose, there is bedlam up there and disorganization. The drive and power of the show is dissipated.

The most recent new song is salute to Con-Edison Electric Company performed by a chorus walking slowly down the aisle chanting and holding lighted candles before their faces. When they reach the stage, they form a semi-circle and lift a prone body above their shoulders and slowly march off into the darkness.

As with any long running show, there are up nights and down nights. You take your chances with getting substitutes in the lead roles (they have to carry all the vocal and acting weight) but it's still a thoroughly rousing good show.

Youth Bureau Launches Coast Lecture Series

A series of three lectures on parent-youth relationships will be given in Pacifica during the month of September, sponsored by the Pacifica Youth Service Bureau.

Ralph Rutley, coordinator of the Youth Service Bureau, spoke yesterday on his observations of the experiences of youth in this community.

September 21 Dr. Frank Hovell, professor of psychology at San Francisco State College, will speak from his viewpoint as a behavioral psychologist on discipline and punishment.

Dr. Hovell's theories have been incorporated into the treatment of emotionally disturbed children in the San Bruno School District.

September 28 Rutley will give his second lecture, "The Family Under Assault."

All three lectures will be given at Vallemar School, multipurpose room at 7:30 p.m.

If further information is needed, call Pacifica Youth Service Bureau, 80 Eureka Square, Suite 219, Pacifica.

Licata Family Celebrates 25 Restaurant Years

Happy birthday to the Licata family, and many more to come! This is more than just a birthday celebration for Vince's Italian and Sea Foods restaurant in San Mateo, it's their 25th successful anniversary in the restaurant business—quite a feat in this day and "age." You still have two more days (today and tomorrow) to participate in the anniversary festivities. So make plans to be in attendance. Since 1945, Vince and his family have been serving the public the best in food and beverage, with a unique mixture of Italian and sea foods. All bar drinks are 50 cents during the celebration days. When ordering dinner, seafood cocktails will be just 50 cents; a bowl of soup, 25 cents, and coffee, five cents. All meats served is from Grand National Champions, which were purchased by Vince at the recent San Mateo County Fair and Fair. Vince, his wife, Nina, daughters, Angela and Rosalind, and sons Tony and Louis will be on hand to greet their many friends. Remember today and tomorrow are the big days. So let's all get with it and make the Licatas' 25th year one to be long remembered.

Vince Licata

Another classic gourmet treat has been created by Phil Lehr at his Pay-By-Ounce Steakery in downtown San Francisco, and is now featured in his elegant Wellington Room — Steak Schallot en flambe, at your table. It has quickly become one of Lehr's most popular specialties, and is slated for nationwide news space... The guard at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City is regal, stately, but pretty tame. The guard is a one-hundred-year-old suit of armor which stands sentry in the lobby of this hospitably operated restaurant... Mike Voyn, one of the all-time outstanding coaches of Lowell High School in San Francisco of years past, was a recent diner at the Exposition Fish Grotto at Fisherman's Wharf. Mike was only doing what comes natural — joining the crowds who flock here for seafood specialties... The Strolling Troubadours at Al Williams' Papagayo Room in Pacifica will play any Mexican song request. Mexican food, a little Sangria Punch and the Strolling Troubadours will put "pep in your step"... The wine cellar at Oreste's restaurant, near Civic Center in San Francisco, offers over 200 varieties of both domestic and imported wines, plus champagnes. Owner Joe Piccinini travels back to his native town of Lucca, Italy, often to keep his fine Italian cuisine current in the Tuscan style of preparing food.

Phil Lehr

Singer's singer Tony Bennett, whose "I Left My Heart in San Francisco" is one of the great tunes of all time, returns to the Bay Area quite frequently. And when he does he usually stays at the Hyatt House, Burlingame. In fact, he was here just this past week and, of course, General Manager Bill Griffin put an appropriate welcome on their Bayshore marquee... Millbrae's King's Bowl complex was dark for a couple of days recently, as the management was in the process of resurfacing the bowling lanes. The Blue Peacock restaurant has reopened, and it's business as usual for the popular entertainment center... Bill Vroman, new owner of the Sinaloa cantina in North Beach, which is now featuring an all-Latin revue (including the Aztec Fire Dancers), was, until two years ago, a lieutenant commander in the U.S. Navy. As a supply corps officer, he handled the business branch of the Navy food service, buying and receiving ship stores. Bill became interested in the night club business after two years in the construction business, and hopes to bring back to San Francisco a flavor of its past night life... DeeJay's, the Peninsula's newest night spot (located on El Camino Real in Belmont), features live music and dancing seven nights a week. Currently appearing are the Echo IV, featuring Rocky Jenkins as lead guitar and vocalist.

Bill Griffin

The Leaning Tower's Joe Ercoli, who was looking great while minding the plank last week, was asked how he and little brother, Lou, split the working shifts in their elegant South City restaurant. "It's easy," he replied quickly. "I work days and Lou, evenings." So Joe can be found during luncheon hours while Lou minds the store and plays host during dinners... Gene Pardini, co-owner of Millbrae's Pardini's Grotto, is a likeable chap with restaurant know-how. Understand he is a cousin of Lucien Sabella, owner of A. Sabella's at Fisherman's Wharf. Gene's previous background includes the wholesale fish business. One thing for certain, he and Paul Tufo have a restaurant success going for them on Broadway... Redwood City's Iron Rail is owned by the same operators of Burlingame's Frigate, and the two restaurant menus are almost identical. A variety of sandwiches is offered, with prices in the $1 to $1.25 range. Quick service is an added plus... The Combination Plate is the thing to order at the Greek Taverna in North Beach, where the Trio Orfeo provides music for belly dancers nightly.

Joe Ercoli

Talented guitarists Stu Stoneback and Carmen Ortiz perform an inexhaustible supply of energy plus "rhythm in their bones" as they radiate their charm in the Lancer Lounge of the Holiday Inn, South San Francisco. As is natural, Carmen's beauty provides an added enticement to an evening of entertainment. Food and Beverage Manager Claude Schroeder says business couldn't be better... In his premiere engagement in the seventh floor Fun Room at Harold's Club, Reno, through September 21, singer-actor Gordon MacRae generously endorses the standards which have become leading entries in musical Americana history since the Rodgers and Hammerstein classical, "Oklahoma," was introduced on New York's Broadway in 1943 and later as a movie in '55. On the bill with MacRae are The Four Step Brothers, veteran tap and rhythm dancers. New with the Steps for this return is grandson Terry Criner, a 10-year-old whose impressions of Bill "Bojangles" Robinson is a show-stealer... Various Peninsula restaurateurs are avid golfers, but none more so than the New Southern's Reno Donati and Larry Bertolucci of the South San Francisco restaurant bearing his name. Last weekend Larry and his lovely wife were house guests of Reno, and the playing foursome included Larry's son and Roland Petroschi, Chief of Police of Daly City. When asked who won, Reno just smiled.

BRIGHT LIGHTS

BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Entertainment Policy For Castaway Restaurant

Likeable Jim Plas, general manager of the beautiful Castaway Restaurant at Coyote Point, will have a big treat for his Friday and Saturday evening guests. Entertainment has been added to the "menu." It's a surprise, so Bright Lights won't mention any details. Whether your visit is for luncheon, dinner, or a private banquet, you're in for an exotic adventure in dining. Clancy's never had it so good, music or entertainment-wise. Since the advent of sparkling Margie Brandon at the all-new organ bar, songs and music fill every corner of the San Francisco club with mirth and merriment. Versatile Margie can play any tune request, and is a wiz with ad lib remarks. If you ever see this little gal minus a smile, the drinks are on her. Pizza to eat in or take out is a house specialty at Enrico Romano's Italian restaurant in Pacifica. Touch this off with wonderful Italian food, and you're in, man. Credit where credit is due: Erwin Best, the Benjamin Franklin Hotel's number one man, doesn't confine himself to a plush leather office chair. The active hotel director is up at the crack of dawn tending to the many duties which require his personal attention (driving his guests to the San Francisco Airport, included).

Jim Plas

CLASSIC GUITARIST — William Snowden, brilliant guitarist who won top honors at the International Guitar competition at the University of Caracas, Venezuela, entertains in the lounge of the Shirt Tail, Palo Alto, on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Snowden, who studied guitar with masters of the art, including Alirio Diaz, first assistant to the great Segovia, is the subject of a movie concerning his interest in South American music.

Moonraker Restaurant Nautical Masterpiece

Ever wonder what a "Moonraker" is? Nick Gust, who topped off his latest Rockaway Beach restaurant with this name, says that Moonraker means "a sail rigged above a skysail." The name was used by seafaring men because the sailing ship appeared to be "scrapping the moon." Nick's Moonraker restaurant, a nautical masterpiece located on the coastline of Pacifica, is open Tues. thru Sun, serving Continental cuisine. Don Kelly presides at the organ. Foster's Farm-Fried Chicken House in San Mateo offers one of the most selective menus in the area. Whether its breakfast, lunch, dinner or take-out, you're sure to discover why 60,000 persons daily take advantage of the menu-saving prices offered at Foster's restaurants. For those living on the Peninsula and working in San Francisco, there is sure to be a Foster's conveniently located within walking distance of your office. Foster's is also a great "coffee break" stop for Bay Meadows racetrack fans. Robert Gadbois, vice-president of Avis Corporation in Garden City, hosted a dinner party for San Francisco friends in the handsome private dining room of Lew Lehr's Steak House, in San Francisco's Marina District.

After Long Pacific Voyage—A Welcome

Minoru Nagayoshi, the 23-year-old who sailed a 16-foot sailboat across the sea to San Francisco from Japan, has two major assets in America.

One is the kindness of two American families who have taken him in since his arrival at the Golden Gate, and the second is the craft itself, the Calypso.

He first stayed at the home of the Thomas Tringalis, who believed the seafaring Japanese electronics student shouldn't have to spend another night aboard the Calypso, tied up off the St. Francis Yacht harbor.

The Japanese American Association was contacted the next day, and soon a number of offers of housing for the young man started coming in, it is reported.

George and Jean Corral — he works for Matson Lines — promptly invited Nagayoshi to stay at their Pacifica home, at 235 Sunshine Drive, for whatever length of time Nagayoshi wanted; or could, depending on what immigration authorities had in mind.

"It would be nice if he could stay for a year," commented Corral, adding, "It's kind of refreshing to see a lad like this."

From Osaka, Japan, Nagayoshi said he came here because he wants to learn more electronics in an American college.

He has two years of Electronics Trade School experience behind him, but he wants more.

Nagayoshi is described as "modest" and "independent," with a mind to sell his craft, his only physical asset, to meet expenses. He wants to earn his own way, Nagayoshi explained.

There is not much of a language barrier: Mrs. Corral is Japanese, originally from Osaka herself.

Speaking on the young man's behalf, Corral told of the young man's 101 days afloat, as he rode out eight storms before reaching the safety of San Francisco.

Nagayoshi remained "confident he would make it," Corral said, even though his first attempt got him only a few days out before a storm forced him to limp into Tokyo.

"He seemed to be well supplied for his trip, though," Corral noted. The young adventurer lived mostly on noodles and "lots of rice." And, when he was "feeling down" there was a "little alcohol," for a trip that bred loneliness and some despair.

A couple of times, Corral recalled Nagayoshi saying, "he wondered why he had ever left his mother and three brothers for such a broadening of his horizon."

Reception

A public cocktail reception will be given in honor of Mrs. Wilson Riles today from 4:30 to 6 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Friedenberg, 2395 Bourbon Court, South San Francisco.

MINORU NAGAYOSHI, who crossed the ocean from Japan last month, is staying with a Pacifica family. Jean and George Corral and their daughter Nicole, and shows the Pacificans the route he took.

HAVE YOU TAKEN a ride over San Bruno Mountain on the Guadalupe Canyon Parkway these autumn days? The sun reflecting on the discarded beer cans and bottles is spectacular. And the garbage starting to cover the hilltops like a blanket of snow is beautiful. Ah, the joys of ecology in this litter-free society. When the heck are people going to practice what they preach?

BARTD SPENDS TAXPAYERS' money to clean up that 13 acre site (right?) off Knowles Avenue and what do people do? They deposit garbage by the box-full there! Protect our environment by covering it with a thick coating of refuse seems to be today's philosophy.

OVER BEHIND THE D.C. Civic Center some creep poured acid on the lawn and scarred the velvety carpet for a long time to come. Why? Parks Super Augie Conci wants to know. And we answer why ask us? (That's how you evade a question and protect your sanity these insane days — by answering a question with a question.)

THE PACIFIC PHONE COMPANY makes folks dig deeper to pay higher phone bills in Daly City, so what do they do? They build their new service center in unincorporated Colma — next to the State's new Department of Motor Vehicle building. Their idea of gratitude doesn't jive with the D.C. City fathers' thinking, Our Source tells.

WHAT FOODS THESE MORSELS BE — It was Old Home Week at Toto's Restaurant last Friday — open day of Bacalla. In case you don't know what "Bacalla" is all about we'll tell you. It's a group of businessmen, civic leaders, politicians and just plain citizens who gather weekly to discuss world problems on a local level. Not only is the talk timely, the food is more than merely palatable.

ATTENTION: WOMEN'S LIB FRONT — Women ARE NOT ALLOWED at these luncheons (and if that doesn't start some howling we'll eat our pasta).

THEY'VE REACHED THE 5,000 mark in the save-those-Betty Crocker-coupons-to-save-a-life drive that is underway at the D.C. police department. The object is to get enough of the coupons to "buy" a kidney machine. Officer Dallas Webber is the cop to see if you've got coupons to give for a cake you've baked. Think of it this way: Cakes may be fattening and bad for the ticker, but they'll save your kidneys. That last remark makes any sense to you, we'd suggest you see a headshrinker — soon.

PERSONAL TO HERBERT — That column item concerning welcoming ceremonies for the Good Ship San Francisco before it docked at Oakland the other day stuck in a lot of peoples' craw. You know the nasty about "one or the other should change its name." What makes you think the people in San Mateo County want to live next to Oakland. I say (in a high-pitched squeaky shout) keep San Francisco — San Francisco!

D.C. CITY ATTORNEY ALBERT POLONSKY says he needs some sort of letter or order before he can have that abandoned car removed from the side of Skyline Boulevard near Alemany Avenue. The unsightly mess, on State property, was first pointed out in this column two weeks ago. Funny, how some officials can always find those legal loopholes to get out of doing something. The city NEEDS LESS trash on its streets — not MORE.

AND WHILE ON THE SUBJECT — That lot east of the Broadmoor Police station, NOT in Daly City, must be some sort of tourist attraction. Haven't seen that much junk since we visited one of them modern art exhibits across the Bay last year. No one seems to want to clean that area up either.

REMEMBER COUNCILMAN TED LONG? Well, it's been some time since his name has been in the news so he recently decided to take on San Mateo County supervisors Ged Day because of the latter's bombardment of those cities that failed to attend a meeting of the Bay Area Transportation Committee. In a brief (two page) letter to Day, Councilman Long raked the county over the coals for its past failures to properly notify cities of meetings. He ended his letter by recommending himself for appointment to the transportation committee.

PLANNING DEPARTMENT — Rumors galore in the planning area that something besides Blue Chip Stamp company is going to locate on the corner of Pierce and Sullivan avenues. Talk has centered around the Akron company which already runs several successful discount stores in the Bay Area. . . . Lest we forget; watch for another big apartment development in the Serramonte area coming up soon.

Hospitality Program Is Launched

By WILL THOMAS
Serramonte High School in Daly City Thursday launched a new program of teaching designed for students interested in hospitality industry careers, as well as college.

It's called FEAST, an acronym for Food Education and Service Training, according to Bernard Norton, coordinator of vocational education in the Jefferson Union High School District.

"The objective of Project FEAST here is to prepare students upon graduation for further education or immediate employment in the hospitality and food service industry," Norton pointed out.

Up to the at rt of school Thursday, Capuchino High in San Bruno was the only northern San Mateo County campus involved in the program; Sequoia High in Redwood City to the south.

During the summer vacation, five members of the Serramonte High School faculty, supported by Principal Louis Martin, had been studying the organization and operation of the FEAST program at San Francisco City College, with teams of teachers from six western states where the program has been in operation.

Strangely enough, even though the noted hotel and restaurant department exists within its own unified school district, San Francisco has no high school FEAST program; thus Serramonte will become another

Bay Area-wide showcase.

Numerous observers from throughout the world are expected to visit the Daly City program, Norton pointed out.

Attending the summer program at City College were Byron Chan, Serramonte counselor; Judy Forcada, mathematics; Steve Gillis, English; Carol Landsbergen, home economics, and Rebecca Smith, the cafeteria manager.

Norton explained that FEAST hopes to prepare high school students for positions in the hospitality industry, as it's called, that range from waiter or cook to hotel desk clerk and bus boy.

Culinary unions, hotel and restaurant management and other segments of the hospitality industry generally support the program, Norton emphasized.

The students in the FEAST project come from all areas of the Daly City-Pacific district, Norton said. They might live in the Oceana or Westmoor attendance areas, but they attend Serramonte, the 2-year-old modular scheduled plant, on a full time basis.

Primarily, Norton said, this is because the FEAST program covers a time span of four hours daily.

It will be a while before they really get into the "doing" phase of the program, there's classroom work to be also.

The students enrolled in FEAST courses during the term will take related home economics courses, work part-time in the Serramonte cafeteria, even local restaurants; perhaps a nearby hospital as well.

Norton said business courses also are included in the program, "reinforcing," he said, "the content matter of the program by stressing communication, weights and measures, cost control and some of the economics involved in operating a hotel or dining facility."

Twenty five pupils turned up for yesterday's first classes, held during the first three modules of the day. Lab courses followed today.

'Nothing To Lose'

Workingmen, unite! You have nothing to lose but your country cabin, your boat, your TV set, your camper and your home!

Karl Marx and Frederick Engels maintained a romantic and simplistic view of the world. They envisioned an ever more oppressed working class, the proletarians who, having no means of production of their own, were "without property" and in the "immense majority."

The flaming literary skill of Marx and Engel must be admitted, but as predictors of the human course, they are of a class with the people who forecast light snows for the Donner Party.

These pamphleteers would find today's world difficult to understand. Nationalism, which they considered ineffective, remains a world force. Communist governments exist in Russia, China, Cuba, etc. etc. etc. These are, however, not societies run by the workers, but by a new elite whose last intention would be to see their nationalisms wither away.

But, most disappointing would the search in the West for oppressed and downtrodden workers ready for revolt. In the United States, for example, the workers wear hard hats, post flag decals on car windows and enjoy the affluent society. Doctors, lawyers, union members, accountants, merchants and others have all crowded a burgeoning middle class. This is not the angry mob that the Manifesto sought to identify and mobilize.

One can imagine the bearded Marx trying to make dialogue with a modern American plumber, or a fiery Engels trying to convince a bargaining agent of the United Auto Workers that he has nothing to lose.

But, suddenly a Marxist wins an election in Chile. While Congressional confirmation is required, there seems a good chance that Dr. Salvador Allende will succeed in gaining a six-year term. He now claims that his intention is to establish Socialism, and observers say that the transition will be accomplished within the framework of the Chilean Constitution and existing laws.

Now, once upon a time Fidel Castro was described as an agrarian reformer, and some people keep cobras as pets. But in the ordinary course of events, there is a chance that Chile may disappear from the role of the world's Constitutional democracies.

Allende could hardly wait to pay his respects to Cuba, in interviews with Prensa Latina and Radio Havana, and sent his personal regards to Castro. His past travels have included visits with Mao, Ho Chi Minh, Castro and Kim Il Sung of North Korea.

We tend to take a cavalier view of Marxism in this nation. The reasons are plain enough—in the United States and many other highly industrialized countries, the bedrock of scientific socialism has proven wrong. The bourgeoisie expanded incredibly and absorbed the proletariat and not the other way around as the Manifesto predicted.

But in Chile, and many other South American nations, different conditions apply. With wild inflation, economic inequality and unstable circumstances of living, a Marxist has a chance—and Dr. Allende saw it in Chile and won.

The problem with his election is that it may be the last of its kind.

Burglar Proofing Business

BURGLARY ACCOUNTS for more than $400 million in loss to criminals annually. Insurance rates increase because of increased attacks on both large and small businesses. A sturdy lock can often completely discourage a timid burglar, and at least make a bold one work harder causing more noise and chance for detection by Police.

The pin-cylinder lock gives the best protection since it is difficult to pick. The lock should be a dead bolt type requiring either a key or knob to set it. Such a lock cannot be opened by slipping a piece of celluloid between the door edge and jamb. The best lock available is the double cylinder dead lock which must be opened by a key from either side, making it difficult for a burglar who hid in the store prior to closing to get out of the building.

A BAR CAN BE USED on the rear door, a favorite entry point for burglars. Additionally, bars or steel mesh over windows, skylights or other openings, act as a solid deterrent.

"Lights deter crime" is a very valid statement. Provide a lot of light both inside and outside the store. Having all entry points, including windows and large vents, flooded with light will discourage most burglars and force him to work quickly to escape detection. Arrange indoor lighting so that anyone inside can be spotted by police patrolling the area.

Burglar alarms are the most obvious means of burglar protection, however, are not widely used. The silent central-station alarm, which goes off at the police station unknown to the burglar who continues to work, is the best. The cheaper building-type local alarm system, which wakes the entire neighborhood and alerts the burglar, is preferable to no alarm at all. It, at least, may scare off the thief before he completes his task.

SAFES SHOULD BE well lighted, bolted to the building and placed near the front of the store, visible from the street at night. Keys should be controlled by employers making note of which employee is issued keys and require them to return them when they are terminated. Do not mark keys with the location of locks since it serves as a handy guide for the burglar once keys are obtained. Avoid using a master key or one key for both inside and outside doors, although convenient, it makes burglary a simple matter.

Other helpful hints and advice on security may be obtained from a local locksmith or the Police Department.

LETTERS

Editor, The Post:

It's your move! This is the time for decision. You, my friend, must decide the future course of our town.

Our City has grown these past few years and the Chamber of Commerce has stretched its budget to the breaking point to meet the increased demands.

Think of what has happened during that time . . . houses by the hundreds, and many new people and businesses. Yes, it's been a period of progress. We have new industries, and many more new businesses coming in our town, which means new roads and highways for better access. A new pier in Sharp Park that can put that whole area under redevelopment.

Now we must decide whether we can continue our program of growth with the throttle wide open or kind of settle back. I say, let's continue to build!

In order to continue our march of progress, we are planning a full-scale drive for new members. With your help we can give our Chamber the punch it needs to carry out its program of development.

Will you join us in selling our town? I feel certain your answer will be "yes." As I said in the beginning, it's your move.

Join us in helping to get the right decisions made for Pacifica.

'Public Is Guilty...'

SAMUEL CHANDLER

Daly City Librarian

The second book I refer to the reader is "Local School Boards: Organization and Practices," by Alpheus L. White, for the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. This volume has chapters of interest to voters on such topics as the educational preparation of school board members, men and women as board members, and the occupational background of board members.

The last chapter is a survey of school board problems — it is interesting to note that the greatest number of problems that both boards occur in matters where the public is involved: school board policy, selection of board members, board-superintendent relations, and at board meetings. Negotiating with teachers is usually — and should be — such a smooth process it is not mentioned as a cause of major problems.

A third book is "A Guide for School Board Members," by Gloria Dapper and Barbara Carter. Although dedicated to the "men and women on local school boards who give freely of themselves, their talents and their time, that the schools may serve the children and the nation, it can and should be read by everyone who wants to see the schools "serve their country well."

IN THE LAST CHAPTER, the authors observe that "any fair observer of American public education will be impressed by how good our schools actually are . . . Why then, the roadblocks? Just about everybody is guilty of impeding educational progress in one way or another.

"First of all the public in guilty . . ."

Safety Of Buses

Parents who wouldn't think of operating a family car which had smooth tires or faulty brakes send their children off to catch a school bus without a thought about the safe condition of the vehicle.

That is the way it ought to be. Parents should not be required to concern themselves about the operating condition of school buses, the competence of the drivers and the condition of the roads on which they travel. Are there not public agencies charged with these responsibilities?

Yes, there are, but public agencies can become just as careless as individuals in the discharge of their responsibilities. Roads which have been noted as unsafe by highway officials may be left that way for lack of funds, drivers may receive licenses to drive their buses through their record should disqualify them, and faulty buses may be in use despite laws which say they should not be.

It is disconcerting to hear from the National Transportation Safety Board that it considers most school buses inadequately constructed to protect their passengers. For an additional $350 each, the board estimates, new buses could be reinforced from two to five times their present strength.

'Walters Mails As Usual Had A Lot To Say'

We write this short poem today,
In the form of a little quiz;
So see if you can figure out
Who this famous person is

His accomplishments are many,
But it was baseball where he shone;
He didn't copy anyone,
No, his deeds were his alone

A hint or two may help you here:
One that added to his luster,
Oldtimers will remember well—
He was known as The Duster

And of course there was the Boozie Cage,
Where some players quenched their thirst,
And then we must never forget,
His uncanny move to first

Once his pay check was the highest
Of any player on the Coast,
But his two homers in one game,
We believe he cherished most

If you have not guessed as yet,
Or perhaps your memory fails,
These facts can belong to no one,
But the Great One—Walter Mails!

WE RECENTLY MADE our annual pilgrimage to Walter Mails, and as usual, he had a lot to say. Walter played for two of baseball's immortals, Tris Speaker at Cleveland, and Branch Rickey at St. Louis. Following are some of his comments on them:

"Tris Speaker didn't have the color of a Ruth or a Cobb or a Mays. He wasn't much of a showman, but what a terrific ball player. What a great outfielder. Oh, man, you talk about centerfielders. You talk about Mays and Dimaggio, and fellows like that, but believe me, Speaker didn't have to take his hat off to any centerfielder.

"Speaker played right in behind second base in those days, and he could go back a mile a minute. He was an uncanny judge of a fly ball. He could cut off those singles over the infield and still go back on fly balls. Of course, in that era of the dead ball, there weren't many balls that could be hit over his head. Spoke was also a good thrower, very true. He practiced everyday in the outfield throwing to home plate.

LE PACINI
Sportscribers

"And what a hitter Speaker was. (.344 lifetime average in 22 years). How he could handle that bat. If he was up there in a bunt situation, for instance, and he saw them charging in, he'd turn around and slap it past the infielders. He could hit to all fields. And he could hit lefties as well as right handers.

"It was a funny thing, but he could tell every time a left-hander was going to throw a curve. He used to murder those southpaws. For instance, Hern Pennock had a terrific curve, and Tris could hit it blindfolded.

"One day in the clubhouse I asked him how he could do that, and he said, 'Walter, I can tell but I couldn't give it to anybody else. I really couldn't explain it. I can just tell when it's leaving the pitcher's hand if it's going to be a curve ball.'

"The funny part about it is that he couldn't, or didn't care about, reading a right hander's curve. I guess he could hit them so well he didn't have to read them.

"SPOKE WAS A scientific hitter. He usually used a very light bat. When he got in a slump, he got ahold of Steve O'Neill's (Cleveland catcher) bat, which weighed 42 ounces, and punched the ball with it. And when it got so that the ball was going off that bat good, then he'd go back to hitting with the light bat and start swinging normally again.

"Of course, you understand, it's hard to compare Speaker with players like Mays and Dimaggio, because they played different types of ball games. You can't even compare him, really, with Ruth, because Babe, while he played in both the dead ball and lively ball eras, really ushered in the live ball era. Spoke, of course, was a better outfielder than Ruth, but then don't forget, Ruth was an underrated ball player. Not only was he a great pitcher, but he could have been a great first baseman, he could run, he could throw from the outfield, he was a fine fly chaser. And he was a great team player. If bunting or a single would win a game, he'd bunt or go for the single. If it took a homerun, he'd go for that.

"Now, you can compare Speaker with Cobb, and Speaker was a far superior outfielder. He was also a much better manager, an underrated manager, and a much better leader than Cobb. In fact, Cobb was one of the worst managers I ever saw. Cobb was the kind of fella, for an example, where everybody on his team had to hit according to his style or you couldn't hit.

"Why he even had Harry Heilmann using his style with that peculiar kind of crouch of his. Heilmann couldn't go it after a while though and straightened up and you know what a terrific hitter he turned out to be.

"Speaker was strict. If he said 'I want everybody out on the field tomorrow at 10:30' you better be there at 10:30 and in uniform or you'd be fined. You missed a bunt and you'd be fined. You had to bunt and that's all there was to it. And if our club got into a slump you reported to the park in the morning for batting practice. In fact he had a meeting every morning either in the hotel or at the park to get a look at your eyes to see if they were bloodshot."

★ BRANCH RICKEY: "In 1924 I was making $20,000 with Oakland the highest paid player in the Pacific Coast League. I won 24 games and was sold to St. Louis then managed by Branch Rickey. He also negotiated the contracts.

"I told him I wanted a $5,000 raise and he said 'Why Rogers Hornsby is only making $25,000 and Jim Bottomley the best first baseman in the league is only getting $5,000 from me. Can you give me a good reason why you're entitled to a $5,000 raise?'"

"So I said 'Look first of all I'm not interested in what any ball player on your club is getting. I'm looking out for Walter Mails, and that's all I care about. Secondly, if I report to St. Louis, I have to maintain a second home. Thirdly, I won 24 games!'"

"He says, 'Well, you're right,' and I got the raise. "A lot of people accused Rickey of being cheap. He wasn't cheap, but like most general managers and owners, he'd get a player as cheap as he could. He wouldn't pay you anything unless you fought for it.

"And why not? As a player, I used to get mad at these fellas, but I can see both sides of the picture, now. That's only good business. If a player accepted some of the ridiculously low salaries Rickey gave out, whose fault was that? If the player was so dumb that he didn't know his own value, well, that was his tough luck.

"Oh, Rickey was a tough man. I'll never forget the first meeting I went to in Stockton, where we had spring training. Every morning at nine we'd have a meeting. When Mr. Rickey would come in, everybody would stand up. 'Alright gentlemen,' he would say. 'Take off your coats and hang them on the back of your chairs.' So we'd take our coats off. This one morning, he said, 'I have a very interesting letter from a fan. It says we should win the pennant. Now, when I get 25 players that can hit, run, think, pitch, slide like I want them to, I will win the pennant.'

★ "AND THEN HE MOTIONED to Heinie Mueller, an outfielder. 'Stand up, Mueller. Gentlemen, you see that man there? He built a chicken coop in his basement, and he had to tear it down to get it out. It wouldn't go through the door. Now there's a man I signed for $3,000 a year for three years. Do you want me to win a pennant with dummies like that?'"

"Rickey promised his mother he would never go to the ball park on Sundays. Across the street from the park was a big brick building, and every Sunday you'd see Rickey sitting on a chair on the roof of this building watching the ball game. That's what I'd call a hypocrite.

"But what a smart guy, what a speaker, what an uncanny brain."

NEXT WEEK, MORE MAILS ON COLOR, NEGOTIATING, HIS SCOUTING CAREER, AND FLEETING FAME.

Men's Champ Team Faces The Women

The Pacifica Women's Summer Softball League came to an end when Bruce Richfielders, coached by Leo Ghelarducci, scored a lopsided 14 to 1 victory over Hefner's Typewriter, at Ortega Field.

With a balanced attack that produced only two extra base hits, the Richfielders snowed Hefner's under with two big innings, the fifth, where they scored six runs, and the sixth where they scored another seven runs. Shirley Brown and Shirley Randolph, each had a double, to lead the starters, each had at least one hit, which totaled 15 hits.

Hefner's led at the bottom of the second, when the Richfielders tied it up, in their half of the third. The score remained deadlocked until the Richfielders came up in the fifth inning, scoring their six runs on five singles and two miscues by the Hefner team. The game ended with a line drive off the bat of Pat Stark, right at Richfielders third baseman, Eve Henderson.

Refusing to let the season end, the Men's Northern League played to a flatfooted 7-7 tie, when the game was called at the end of six innings, due to darkness. Winter's Tavern led, 7 to 2, in the fourth inning, but couldn't hold it, and Sierra Ski & Dive tied it up.

The City Champ will be crowned tonight when the Men's City Champs try to protect their ego in a game against a team of All-Stars from the Women's League. This game will be at Ortega Field at 6:30.

Ben Palacio Will Teach Judo Class

Judo classes for the Fall will again be taught by Ben Palacio at the Magnolia Recreation Center, under sponsorship of the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department.

Palacio, instructor for the past two years, will handle both a beginners class and two intermediate classes for boys and girls eight to 14 years of age.

A beginners' class will run for 10 weeks from 3:30 p.m. to 5 every Tuesday afternoon. Boys and girls are eligible to take the 15 hours of lessons.

Intermediates will have a choice of either a Monday or Friday afternoon class from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m., also for 10 weeks.

Fees for the program are set for residents and slightly higher for non-residents. All registrations will be on September 23 and 24 at the Magnolia Recreation Center, Grand and Magnolia Avenues.

Punt, Pass Kick Event In South SF

The 1970 Ford NFL Punt, Pass and Kick competition will be held at Orange Memorial Park on Saturday morning, October 3.

The contest is open to grade and junior high school boys, ages eight through 13, and is divided into six age groups. Boys will be competing with youngsters of their own age.

The contest will be co-sponsored again this year by Fred Lautze Ford and the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department.

There is no cost, but boys must pre-register on official entry forms requiring parents' signatures at Lautze Ford before October 2. Local winners will go to Zone, District, Area, Division competition and then on to the National Finals in Los Angeles if they continue to win. In 1961, South San Francisco's Pete Saco won the National Championship in the 8-year-old age group and in 1968 South City's Herman Segelke won the National Championship in the 10-year-old division.

No special purpose footwear such as football shoes may be worn, and sneakers are recommended. Local winners, second and third placers, will receive trophies in each of the six age groups.

A Horseshoe Tournament In South SSF

The South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department announced it will hold an Adult "Singles" Horseshoe Tournament September 26, 1970 at the Orange Memorial Park Horseshoe Courts beginning at 10 a.m.

The tournament is open to any person 18 years of age and over. First place trophies will be awarded. Interested persons must complete an application form and return it with an entry fee to the Recreation Department no later than September 24 at 5 p.m.

The South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department Administrative Offices are located in Magnolia Recreation Center, Grand and Magnolia Avenues in South San Francisco.

Applications may be picked up at the offices or further information can be obtained by calling the Department Monday through Friday from 9 to 5 p.m.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The City of San Bruno in cooperation with the San Bruno Tennis Club presents the first annual San Bruno Junior Tennis Tournament, to be held on October 3, 4, 10 and 11. There are two classifications, 14 and under and 18 and under. Contact 583-5295 for further information. Entries close Saturday, September 26. All entries must be on official entry blank.

Prep Grid Play Starts Friday

The 1970 High School football season, which is expected to be extremely competitive from now through November, kicks off in earnest this weekend for Peninsula teams and their league rivals.

No less than 16 inter-league "practice season" games are scheduled, with seven of them set to go Friday afternoon.

In addition to the local football fare provided by the preps, College of San Mateo will open its season Saturday night at San Jauquin Delta in Stockton.

Among the better prep match-ups scheduled this weekend, Westmoor meets Aragon at Hillsdale Friday night, and Serra plays host to Woodside at San Mateo High School, on Saturday afternoon.

This week's high school football schedule:
FRIDAY AFTERNOON
(All Games at 3:15 p.m.)
Crestmoor at Terra Nova; Westmoor vs. Aragon at Hillsdale; O'Dowd at Serramonte; Mills at Palo Alto; Gunn at Piedmont Hills; S.F. Poly at Ravenswood; San Carlos at S.F. Lincoln.

FRIDAY NIGHT
(All Games at 8 p.m.)
El Camino vs. Hillsdale at Burl.; Overfelt at South S.F.; Sequoia vs. St. Ignatius at Kezar; Cubberly at St. Francis; M-A vs. Oakland Tech at Sequoia.

JUNIOR COLLEGE
CSM at San Jauquin Delta, 8 p.m.
SATURDAY AFTERNOON
Jefferson at Piner, 1 p.m.; Woodside vs. Serra at San Mateo, 2 p.m.
SATURDAY NIGHT
Carlmont vs. Newark at Sequoia.

SSF Youth Managers' Dance Set

The annual South San Francisco Association benefit dance will be held this fall at Santo Cristo Hall, Saturday, September 19, starting at 9 p.m.

This dance must raise approximately $1500 to be able to conduct the 1971 youth baseball season for boys 11 to 15 years of age.

All funds go to help pay umpire fees, insurance costs, trophies and miscellaneous costs incurred in the Midget, 13 and Under, and Pony League over the summer months.

Tickets may be purchased through Don Sowers, dance chairman, or Ray Cushing, ticket chairman, or members of the Youth Baseball Managers Association prior to the dance. Tickets will also be available at the door the night of the dance.

Music for dancing and listening will be provided by Ernest Oresti and his orchestra.

Information on the South San Francisco Youth Baseball Managers Association or the dance may be obtained by contacting recreation supervisor Bob Aronson at 588-6200, ext. 50.

Instruction On Golfing Is Planned

Beginning golf instruction for adults will be a new fall program of the South San Francisco Recreation and Park Department starting late in September.

Al Tving, manager and golf pro at the El Camino Golf Club, will teach the two times per week classes over four weeks. All necessary golf equipment will be provided by the golf club.

Adults have a choice of two classes, one on Mondays and Tuesdays, and another on Wednesdays and Thursdays, both from 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Registration will be taken at the Magnolia Recreation Center on September 23 and 24. A fee for residents and non-residents can be paid at registration time.

Information on this program may be obtained from recreation supervisor Bob Aronson Monday through Friday.

Champion Bowl Peninsula Team Entries Taken Wins Slow-Pitch

Entries are now being taken for the third annual Champion Auto Parts Handicap Bowling tournament, to be held October 3-4 and October 10-11 at the Serra Bowl in Daly City.

The tournament, sponsored by the Champion Auto Parts of South City, features both men's and women's play.

The largest independent tournament in Northern California, the Champion open last year lured 550 entries and tourney officials are predicting an even larger turnout this year.

Entries may be sent to the Champion Tournament, Serra Bowl, Junipero Serra and Alca Streets in Daly City.

Armbruster Gets A Double Eagle

Hal Armbruster performed a rare feat at Crystal Springs golf course over the weekend when he eagled the 16th hole.

Armbruster knocked in his second shot on the par five, 490-yard hole with a three iron.

3-Team Title Race Predicted In NPL

By JERRY LITTELL

The Holy Trinity is alive and well and living in the North Peninsula League.

The Trinity in this case is made up of the three title-holding football teams for the 1970 season. Westmoor, defending champion, South San Francisco and El Camino High Schools again should be the only teams with enough firepower to battle for the crown.

Since the NPL opened in 1961, only SSF and Westmoor have won grid titles. Westmoor won the first, SSF took the majority of the rest and had a six-year string on the line until last year's Ram victory. El Camino, until three years ago, was always a threat but couldn't score against the Warriors thus putting a serious crimp in any title chances.

Now with Tom McCormick heading into his second year as Colt mentor, there are those who believe both the Colt scoring and losing streak may be at an end. Pete Matisi's Rams, however, are still installed favorites to take their second straight conference crown.

WESTMOOR

Last year at this time Westmoor knew it had the backs to win a title but was worried about its young, inexperienced line. Line coach Bob Lotti pulled a minor miracle getting the linemen primed for the early season SSF game. The Ram backs came through and SSF was dethroned.

This season the situation is reversed. The line is there — big, strong and experienced. Now, with both All-NPL'ers Jim Lewis and Al Lieske gone from the backfield, Westmoor must come up with enough strength on offense to successfully defend its title.

Matisi will have senior lefty Mike Swallow back to call the signals and the strong quarterback will have several talented receivers. Tight and Jeff Orlich is both big (6-3, 200) and fast (a track sprint star). Junior Bob McLennan, who missed the last of the '69 season with an injury, is likewise returning while 6-2 Dave Riley will handle back-up catching duties. Brad Kearns and Randy Fitzgerald both can catch and run so the aerial game appears intact. Running is another problem.

There is pure speed in the backfield in Ken Tatum, a converted end. Last year's best sophomore player, Ken Green, will share fullback duties with Bob Boschetti, a 5-10, 195-pounder who played behind Lieske, Junior Tom Price may be another halfback starter.

The beefy part is a coach's dream. Dan Proctor (6-4, 215), Irving Rowell (6-1, 235), Mike Billick (6-1, 200) and junior Jim Woodward anchor but could be one of the better line on the Peninsula.

SOUTH SF

Inexperience in backfield may hurt the Warriors in '70. Senior Ed Seubert, the lone letterman with plenty of playing time, injured his hand just before practice sessions began and is out for a few weeks.

Taking over at quarterback should be senior Marty DeMerritt with junior Bob Bachold backing him up. Fullback Hank Love has missed some early work with stitches over his eye but could be the key to the ground-oriented Warrior attack. The Warriors have some experience up front in veterans Brad Dahl, Mike Cholis (who moved from defense to offense) and Miniscule Mike Senkir has been to bolster the running game.

had an off-season operation losing him thus far), Setoga Setoga (6-1, 220) and Tony Sotola. It will take an above-average performance from Warrior juniors if SSF is to upset and repossess the title.

EL CAMINO
Backfield depth and a questionable aerial game could be the biggest hurdles the Colts will have to overcome before thinking of the NPL title. McCormick molded a hard-hitting El Camino squad which upended Mid-Peninsula League titleholder Burlingame in a practice affair and nearly shut out on-rival rival SSF before Ray DeJong's crew won, 6-0.

The line is back, for the most part, a little bigger and stronger. Gary Dellamaggiore, (5-10, 175), All-NPL'er Jeff Lamkin (6-2, 225), Steve Wilkes and junior tackle Mike Knowles (6-4, 220) are the Colts' strong points heading into the '70 season.

"We've picked up right where we left off last year," reported an enthused McCormick. "We are hitting well even this early in practice. Knowles has been our early-year pleasant surprise but everyone has been doing a good job."

Dale Momi should open as Colt quarterback with speed-backs Al Spitzer and Joe Cortez and Jim Laver handling the running game. Juniors are sprinkled throughout the pass-catching corps with the best seeming to be Mark Spivey, Rich-Clarke and Vince Howard.

OCEANA
No varsity halfback returns. Oceana's Sharks, with a fine Three juniors, Kevin Fowler, blending of size and experience,

Greg Jones On Waivers

Former UCLA halfback Greg Jones' odyssey into the violent world of pro football has apparently come to an end.

The South San Francisco youth was given his walking papers by the Chicago Bears yesterday as most of the teams pared down to their 40-player limit.

Jones had been dealt to the Bears on a conditional trade by the Minnesota Vikings last week, and it was thought that when the Chicago Bears put Ronnie Bull on injured waivers that he had a good chance of staying.

But his rookie inexperience, coupled with the fact that there were a lot of veteran running backs circulating around the pro league, led to his demise.

Jones stated before he left South San Francisco last week that he wouldn't be adverse to playing on a taxi squad for one season to pick up the needed experience.

Another who felt the sharp axe of the mercenary play-for-pay world was former Sequoia High School, College of San Mateo, and University of Pacific defensive back Tony Plummer, Plummer, who was given a tryout by the St. Louis Cardinals, was one of the last players cut yesterday.

Elsewhere, Curtis McClinton and Charlie Long, both 31, retired Monday.

McClinton, the man who scored the Kansas City Chiefs' first regular season touchdown back in 1963, wrote finis to a distinguished eight-year pro career. An All-American out of Kansas University, McClinton was American Football League Rookie of the Year in 1962, and three-time All-AFL.

Long had been starting guard for the Boston Patriots until he was injured last year and newcomer Mike Montler replaced him. The 6-foot-4, 260-pounder will stay with the Pats as a scout and also will handle special promotional work when the club's 61,000-seat stadium is built in Foxboro, Mass.

could field their most representative team in several seasons this year. Junior quarterback Desi Chavez is a capable thrower while senior runners Dave Williams and Rick Blasquez supply both speed and power on the ground.

There is more size than usual up front with tackle Owen Gabbart (6-0, 220), twin linemen Frank and Tony Parti (6-0, 210) both juniors, center Dave Montgomery (6-1, 190) and guard Mike Overholt. Junior tight end Tom Harper (6-2, 190) could be the pass catcher of Jess Jones' crew.

HALF MOON BAY

With only seven seniors coming back coach Jerry Murphy's Cougars could be in for a rough season except for the fact that HMB has a satisfactory blending of some size, some speed and some experience.

Junior thrower Frankie Reyes can put the ball in the air with the rest of the NPL quarterbacks. Sophomore Ron Stockman (6-1, 185) and vet Jeff Yarian (6-1, 190) have good power and speed. The line has size in Scott Tolbert (5-10, 260), vet Dave Hopkins (6-1, 197) and junior Rin Musser (6-0, 195) but depth is a key problem.

JEFFERSON

Senioritis has hit the Jefferson Indians also as first-year coach Tom Martinez can look towards just six returnees. Quarterbacking will be split between juniors Ron Goss and Chinto Fonseca while Frank Tracy, Carl Taylor and Mark Baker will vie for running back positions.

Joe Goletta at 215 supplies most of the size up front with Al Chock (5-10, 160) and Julio Helena (5-9, 180) giving the Indians experience. Pass catching duties should fall to Craig Conway (6-0, 175).

SERRAMONTE

through all the withdrawal symptoms of a coach in his first year of varsity competition. The Regents, the latest entries in the NPL, have only about 25 out for football so depth and experience are foregone problems.

Last year's best runner, Ron Beltramo, is expected to head the attack again while last year's defensive ace, Rich Newman, is being switched to quarterback. Mike Scurries, Steve Carr, Steve Bochard, Steve Revell and transfer Wade Littlejohn are the thin crew up front.

Here is how the coaches see the 1970 race:

1. Westmoor
- 2 or 3. South S.F. or El Camino.
4. Terra Nova.
5. Oceana.
6. Half Moon Bay.
7. Jefferson.
8. Serramonte.

Sugar 'n Spice

Good morning, good cooks.

Let's start off today's column with an idea for an entree that takes just a short time to prepare and bakes in the oven while we watch the end of the late afternoon movie on TV. Or to be more realistic, while we race through the house with last minute cleaning, or iron, or sew or stop the kids from fighting.

PORCUPINES IN MUSHROOM SAUCE

- 1/2 cup uncooked rice
- 1 1/2 pounds ground chuck
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 package mushroom soup mix
- 3 cups water
- 1-3 cup sour cream (optional)

(Bake 350-degree oven, 1 hour.)

Combine the half cup uncooked rice with the one and one-half pounds ground chuck, one-half cup each onion, green pepper and celery, the egg, two teaspoons prepared mustard, one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Mix well. Form into one and one-half inch meatballs. Place in baking dish.

Combine the mushroom-soup mix with the three cups water and heat to boiling. Pour over meatballs. Cover tightly and bake in 350-degree oven for one hour. Remove and stir in the half cup sour cream. Serves six generously.

This next recipe also calls for uncooked rice, but instead of meatballs, in a casserole. It has a name that should appeal to the children in the family, and the dish itself will appeal to everyone.

RIPE-OLIVE COWBOY CASSEROLE

- 1 cup ripe, pitted olives
- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1/4 cup cooking oil
- 2 stalks celery
- 1/2 large green pepper
- 3/4 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup uncooked rice
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 (1-lb., 12 oz.) can tomatoes
- 1/4 cup water
- 2 teaspoons chili powder
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- Sliced, Monterey, Jack or Cheddar cheese

(Bake 325 degrees, 1 hour.)

Cut the one cup pitted olives into large pieces. Brown the pound and half of Beef in two tablespoons of the oil. Turn the browned meat into a 2-quart casserole. Slice the two stalks celery and half green pepper into thin strips. Cook in the remaining two tablespoons oil, along with the three-fourths cup onion and the cup of uncooked rice. Cook until rice is lightly browned.

Add the large can undrained tomatoes, 1/4 cup water, two teaspoons salt, two teaspoons chili powder, half teaspoon pepper and one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Stir in half of the olives, heat to boiling pour over meat. Cover and bake in 325-degree oven for one hour. Remove cover; sprinkle with the remaining half cup olives.

Cut the sliced cheese into strips and arrange over the top of the casserole. Place under broiler until cheese melts — about 5 minutes, but be sure to keep an eye on it. Serves 6 to 8.

I've been testing a lot of cookie recipes lately. And in the course of going through recipes came across these raisin squares which have long been a favorite in my family.

RAISIN SQUARES

- 1 cup raisins
- 1-3 cup shortening
- 2-3 cup brown sugar (packed)
- 2 Tablespoons molasses
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 3-4 cup quick-cooking oats

(Bake 350-degrees, 25 minutes.)

Rinse the one cup raisins and drain. Melt the one-third cup shortening in small saucepan. Remove from heat and stir in the two-thirds cup brown sugar and two tablespoons molasses. Add the unbeaten egg and blend thoroughly.

Sift together the half cup flour, one-fourth teaspoons each salt and soda. Add to the molasses mixture along with the cup drained raisins and three-fourths cup oats. Mix well.

Turn into greased eight-inch square baking pan. Bake in 350-degrees over 25 minutes. Cook, sprinkle with powdered sugar and cut into small squares. Rich and delicious.

BETTER BUSINESS

By LORENE BEASLEY
Better Business Bureau

Late billing statements of several days or weeks after the billing date of revolving or "open end" credit accounts have been the subject of many complaints to the Better Business Bureau.

The established practice is for creditors to allow a customer 25 or 30 days from the billing date to pay the full "New Balance" owed (that is the total amount owed in the account) and thereby avoid any additional finance charge.

However, when creditors fail to send billing statements promptly the effect is to reduce substantially the time within which a consumer may avail himself of the option of paying the "New Balance." This, of course, increases his chances of incurring finance charges.

At present, the Truth-in-Lending Act and implementing Regulation Z does not set forth any specific time within which the creditors are required to send periodic billing statements to their customers.

Congress has been looking into the problem of the shrinking billing period and a bill, as a proposed amendment to the Truth-in-Lending Act, has been introduced which would require open-end creditors to mail their periodic statements at least seven days before the close of next billing cycle.

One state, Massachusetts, has recently amended its laws to require creditors to send periodic billing statement at least nine days before the end of the next billing cycle. The law provides if they do not observe this ruling, they will not be entitled to any finance charges for the preceding cycle.

The Federal Trade Commission, urging retailers to send periodic billing statements as promptly as possible, says such failure to furnish customers their periodic statements in time to avoid finance charges could be interpreted as a violation of the Truth-in-Lending Act, since all of the required disclosures (specifically, the date by which finance charges may be avoided) would not be accurate when received.

The FTC further warns that continued abuses in connection with the problem of late billing could result in formal FTC action in individual instances, as well as the Commission's recommendation for strong corrective legislation.

Brisbane Police Recover Loot From DC Burglary

Brisbane police arrested four North County youths and recovered a cash register stuffed with money during a routine traffic stop on San Bruno Mountain Monday.

Officers Dennis Sullivan and Bob Davis were on patrol in the Radio Road area of the mountain about 4 a.m. when they came upon four teenagers acting suspiciously near a stopped car on the side of the car.

As they were talking to the unidentified boys two $5 bills blew out of the brush and past the policemen. A quick search of the roadside turned up a cash register stolen earlier from the Daly City Datsun-Volvo Auto Company at 6601 Mission Street.

One of the youths allegedly had a check made out to the company in his pocket at the time of his arrest.

Daly City police said the front door of the company was kicked in and he register, containing some $135 in cash, stolen.

They surmise the youthful burglars had stopped on the lonely mountain road to split their loot when the Brisbane officers came upon them.

Holbrook Sentenced

Ernest (Doc) Holbrook, convicted slayer of a 17-year-old San Bruno youth during a drunken barroom brawl on Dec. 17, Thursday, was sentenced to state prison for five years to life by Superior Court Judge Louis B. Dematteis on his conviction of second degree murder.

On July 29 Judge Dematteis had granted Holbrook a stay of execution so he could be at the bedside of his wife on the birth of their second baby. The baby was born at St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco on August 26.

Survivors include her husband, Russell; a son, Wendell, Cupertino; a brother, Joseph Skingel, and a sister, Mrs. Hap Kotney, both of Ashland, and two grandchildren.

She was a member of the Senior Citizens of San Bruno.

The rosary was recited Sunday at 8 p.m. at Chapel of the Highlands, Millbrae. A requiem mass was celebrated Monday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Robert's Catholic Church, San Bruno, with local interment.

TWO TERMS

FRANKFORT, Ky. — The only man to serve two consecutive terms as governor of Kentucky was James Garrard in 1796 and 1800.

LOOKING INNOCENT from the air, this stretch of road has been a constant source of controversy in South San Francisco. When this stretch is completed, Westborough Boulevard will provide traffic flow from Skyline Boulevard past the California Golf Club (on the right) down to El Camino Real. During construction it has prompted unceasing complaints of homes being inundated with dirt. Tomorrow residents of South San Francisco will vote on whether they want a pedestrian overpass on the extension, at the intersection of Camaritas and West Orange avenues. (Post Photo)

Twelve Boys Arrested For Liquor Theft

Twelve boys, ranging in age from 9 to 17, have been rounded up for stealing cases of whiskey and gin from parked boxcars.

The boys were not a gang, though most of them knew most of the others and some of them worked together at least part of the time.

Police say the multiple arrests hopefully will put an end to the series of boxcar burglaries that has plagued the Hiram Walker warehousing and bottling plant at 1645 Rollins Road.

The most recent big theft was reported August 20, when 24 cases of whiskey and gin were taken from a locked and sealed boxcar behind the Hiram Walker building.

Police said two of the boys admitted breaking into the boxcar, and others admitted helping them cart away some of the loot. Some of the others, however, apparently merely discovered the opened boxcar later, and helped themselves.

One boy, who worked at a grocery store, apparently provided a shopping cart to aid the others in trundling the stolen liquor through the wooded area.

At least two cases were hidden in the trees, and were found by others of the 12 youths.

Although boxcar thefts had been bothering the area for months, this case began to break when the early teeners began attempting to dispose of the stolen liquor.

Some was recovered in home garages, some had been re-sold to a Peninsula liquor store, and the boys had drunk some or given it to friends.

Police said the boys included residents of Burlingame, Millbrae, Daly City, and one from Ukiah.

Construction At Airport Causes Traffic Change

Airport entry traffic will be more confused than usual this week, as changes are made in terminal roadways.

Airport Manager George Hansen said inbound cars will be detoured around a construction zone at the up-ramp on the westerly end of the South Terminal.

"Traffic to aircraft ticket counter areas, on the upper level, will be routed around the construction zone via the parking garage fourth level entrance ramp," Hansen said. "These cars will be directed back toward the terminal by a temporary overpass from the parking garage to the terminal upper roadway."

"Baggage claim areas, on ground level, will be reached by a slight detour past the construction site, to the left of the existing roadway."

"Both streams of traffic, those bound for the upper ramp to connect with departing planes, and those bound for lower levels to pick up arriving passengers and their baggage, will detour to the left after passing the Bank of America building."

Hansen said motorists bound for upper levels should keep to the far left, and those headed for lower areas should keep to the right, during the leftward swing.

The existing up-ramp will be demolished to allow construction of a 150-foot westerly extension of the South Terminal, and to allow a 150-foot westerly extension of the upper roadway.

"The construction is the initial phase of a $10,000,000 terminal roadway reconstruction program," said Hansen.

"We anticipate that the new ramp will be completed by late next spring."

"During construction, every effort will be made to keep traffic flowing as smoothly as possible.

"Motorists coming to the airport can assist us greatly by driving directly into the parking garage or parking lots, unless unloading or picking up passengers or baggage in front of the passenger terminals."

KEITH GORDON has been named merchandise and sales manager of the new Breuner's Daly City Wayside store. Gordon began his career with Breuner's in Stockton in 1964, as studio and contract manager. In 1966 he became studio manager in Breuner's Sacramento store, and in 1968 was promoted to manager of Breuner's San Francisco branch.

Probation For SSF Slayer

John Thomas Parker, who shot and fatally wounded a South San Francisco youth during an argument in a rooming house last February 22, was given a suspended state prison sentence Friday by Superior Judge Allison M. Rouse.

Parker, 47-year-old sheet metal worker, was denied a motion to withdraw his plea of guilty to voluntary manslaughter.

The defendant was charged with shooting and fatally wounding 18-year-old Calvin Thomas Grayson following an argument over Grayson and some friends throwing paint about the kitchen of the South San Francisco rooming house.

Sentence was imposed following Parker's return from the State Medical Facility at Vacaville where he was sent for a period of diagnostic testing following his guilty plea.

In suspending the state prison sentence, Judge Rouse placed the defendant on probation for a period of eight years on condition that Parker spend one year in county jail, with credit for the time served since June 16, that he abstain from the use of alcoholic beverages and submit to clinical testing for use of alcohol and that he contribute to the support of his family.

Rebuilding At Cow Palace

Work has begun at the Cow Palace to replace the exhibit building that burned down several weeks ago.

Manager George Strathearn said the building should be completed in time for the Grand National Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo, which is to start October 23.

The building was a general exhibit building, that housed beef during the Grand National, and other displays, including the flea market.

State architects had estimated a sum of some $400,000 would be required to replace the structure to the specifications sought by Strathearn and the Palace's board of directors.

However, low bid came in at $233,000—and the total, including architect fees and contingencies is not expected to exceed $185,000, Strathearn said.

The structure is to be three feet higher and large roll-up doors are to be installed at each end.

Injured On Devil's Slide

Donald Ray Roberts, 26, of 231 Paloma Street, El Granada, was injured early Wednesday when he was thrown from his sedan on the treacherous Devil's Slide section of Cabrillo Highway.

Highway patrolmen said Roberts was driving southbound at 12:15 a.m. when the car went out of control on a downhill curve and smashed into a rock embankment.

The auto spun around and Roberts was thrown out onto the pavement, where he was found unconscious.

Pre-School Registration In Pacifica

Registration for the Pacifica pre-school program, sponsored by the Park, Beach and Recreation Department will be conducted on Monday, September 28 from 10 to 12 noon at the Sharp Park Library Community Room.

The library is located at the corner of Hilton and Palmetto roads in the Sharp Park area.

The pre-school program is open to 3½ to 5 year olds and will be held at Fairmont Fairmont West and Oddstad Recreation Centers. Both morning and afternoon classes will be scheduled at each facility. The program consists of a one-day-per-week class of two hours in which the pre-schooler will have the opportunity to experience arts and crafts, games, interactive play, nature study, music and dance, and a variety of creative learning experiences. The program will also provide the children with the opportunity to play and work with other children their age.

Instructors Bonnie Kehoe and Margaret Johnson are looking forward to the start of the fall session and are currently in the process of planning the weekly activities. Some of their plans include: planting seeds, carving a pumpkin for Halloween, "Me" pictures, a special field trip and lots more activities.

In addition to the above registration, late registration will be taken at the Recreation Department office, 170 Santa Maria Avenue as follows: Starting at 1 p.m. Monday and as follows: Tuesday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1-4 p.m.; Wednesday, 6-9 p.m.; and Friday, 9 to 12 noon only. For additional information on the Pre-School Program contact the Park, Beach and Recreation Department.

World Travelers Enjoy Summer Reading In S.S.F.

Via the summer reading program "World Traveler," 80 travelers gathered at the South San Francisco Grand Avenue library to board Flight 826 recently.

Fifty travelers in the first class reserved seats had completed their round-the-world flight by reading 10 books. After departing from San Francisco Airport, they made stops in nine other cities, then on to the Hawaiian Islands where festivities took place, and they were awarded reading achievement certificates.

Travelers included Gayle Andreini, Dennis Bryant, Michael Bryant, Bill Byers, Shirlee Byers, Nancy De San Martino, Lisa De Zordo, Pat Ewart, Angela Gatto, Valerie Gatto, Mona Glenister, Felicitas Gonzalez, Tony Gonzalez, Prudencia Gonzalez, Sara Maria Gonzalez, Silverio Gonzalez, Deborah Ann Gunther, Frank Guzman, Connie Halseth, Richard Halseth, Agnes Hetsely, Debra Hunsperger, Linda Jones, Barbara Laughtrey, Cynthia Lewis, Steven Lopez, Renee Lopresti, Ann Lucchesi, Mary Ann Lundardi, Alicia Marin, Christine Meek Lucille Lopresti, Ann Martin, Lucille Melchiorre, Mike Merellas, Sylvia Penna, Leigh Anne Russell, James Serrata, Cheryl Sheldadine, Karen Sylvia, Loretta Sylvia, Elizabeth Verploegh, Elizabeth Wald, Linda Wald, Lisa Wald, Mark Wallace, Anne Wieler, Mary Wieler, Christine Zaber, and Gordon Zagar.

Those completing the program but unable to attend were Robert Gatto, Renee Lopresti, Kathy Shupi and Mary Ann Stupi, and Rosalee and Sebastian Vallelunga.

Travelers not reaching the final destination: Nancy Buyulian, Martha Garcia, Reina Garcia, Ampara Gomez, Carmen Gomez, Penny Hensley, Sharon Johnson, Pat Kennelly, Leanna Kiellian, Georgia Laughtrey, Leticia Luna, Benio Melchiorre, Christine Purdy, Don Russell, Denise Sievers, Dina Sievers.

Community Joins In S.S.F. Drug Battle

Many different members of the community are aiding the South San Francisco School District in launching its Drug Abuse curriculum this fall.

Headed by Mrs. Leo Sack, the committee embraces professional, agency and civic and youth leaders. The group has the stated purpose "to involve the entire community for the purpose of developing a cooperative multi-agency approach to the problems of youth in a drug-oriented society. To insure the development and implementation of a city-wide drug education program."

Since March 31, when Assistant Superintendent of Schools Dr. Clifton Boyack convened the group, the committee has heard and discussed school policies and investigated some approaches to drug education outside the district.

Drug usage by junior and senior high school students is becoming recognized as a complex phenomenon, according to committee studies. Of the causes some are engendered in the home, some in the school, and some in the community.

Working with the advisory committee, school administrators have been attempting to curtail the increasing number of drug-related incidents in the schools. Last month the district developed a two-man team to head the drug education program both among faculty and student.

Better than 100 citizens, school staff and students have been involved in the early program. Local police and medical officials have joined the group.

Representation now spans the entire community. Medical representation from Kaiser and Mary's Help Hospitals, the city, the chamber of commerce, public health agencies, the courts, Red Cross, pharmacists, churches, service clubs and P-TA's are included in the group.

Curriculum proposed for the 1970-71 school year is presently being reviewed by the advisory committee after it was approved in principle by the board of trustees.

The drug abuse program begins with instruction of safety, caution about medicine, accepting gifts from strangers and graduates to assessing mass media commercials, the use of alcohol and tobacco and some material in the grades.

A junior high and secondary program will consist of "straight, honest pharmacology, personal decision making, dealing with pressure group and peers, and resources for help when it is needed."

Members of the advisory committee include Mrs. Sack, Municipal Judge F. Jose deLarios, Sister Evelyn DC, Mary's Help Hospital; Dr. James Dugger, Kaiser Hospital; Dr. Sheldon Gross, Dr. Martin Gershman, Dr. Gilbert Smolin, Miss Toni Palladino, North County Mental Health Center; Mrs. Robert Stookey, Mrs. John Howard, Rona Basanez, Linda Nickel, Revere Eugene Linamen, Richard Hazel, County Probation officer; Joe Bernal, County Probation; Police Sgt. James Winfield, S.S.F. Police Department, City Manager, S.S.F., Thomas McKenzie; S.S.F. Assistant City Manager, Larry Ross, Richard Fox, Brentwood Pharmacy; Henry Deines, Piwald Drug; Les Davis, S.S.F. Chamber of Commerce; William Cagari, Rotary Club; Ralph Galloway, Eve Rendon and Nancy Hale.

Referral Action Seeks Organizer
The Information and Referral Center of Daly City is recruiting for a community organizer-job developer.
The organizer's pay is $500 a month ($6000 annual wage).

Structure Damaged

An old, vacant structure, a former apartment building soon to be torn down, was damaged by fire at 1 p.m. Sunday in South San Francisco.

Firemen said two rooms of the building at 98 Oak Street were gutted.

Cause of the fire has not been determined, authorities said.
